Girls May Be Arraigned In Juvenile Court, Is Belief Today

Investigation of a series of parties staged by a number of East Side high school girls and boys, in which moonshine played an important role, is being investigated today by Mrs. Fannie Hamilton, police matron, following numerous complaints which have been made to her within the last few days.

A number of the girls are expected to be arraigned in juvenile court tomorrow, charged with delinquency and disorderly conduct.

According to complaints that have been made to police headquarters recently, the girls are alleged to hav accompanid their boy friends on parties to nearby roadhouses and cottages.

The girls are charged with drinking moonshine which was furnished by the boys.

Following the quiz by Mrs. Hamilton this afternoon the matter is expected to be taken up with either Judge A. C. Hoppmann or Judge O. A. Stolen in juvenile court.

U. W. Student Denies Part In Mount Hazing

Carlton Varney Sends Affidavit To Chicago Prosecutor

(By the Associated Press)

CHICAGO—A student who is said to have told a young woman that he knew what became of Leighton Mount, Northwestern University freshman who disappeared after a class rush in 1921, was taken into custody by attaches of the state's attorney's office. His name was withheld.

The state's attorney today received a communication from Carlton Varney, one of the students who left Northwestern after the 1921 class rush and disappearance of Mount. The letter was mailed from Madison, Wis., and contained an affidavit that Varney never had known Mount. He explained that his part in the class rush consisted of ducking a sophomore by Varney and a fellow student.

Carlton Varney, known on the campus here as Francis Carlton Varney, resides at 644 N. Frances st., and is a sophomore here. He is a member of Delta Upsilon fraternity. His home is in Wilmette, Ill.

"I never knew Mount at all," Varney said at his home today. "It is just as I have stated in that letter. I and another student ducked one sophomore—that's all I did in the rush while I was a freshman at Northwestern university."

Lynaugh And Ogilvie Out On Bail; Have Each Other Arrested

Matthew Lynaugh, former Madison police officer, and Leslie Ogilvie, Verona, employe of the Oscar Mayer Packing Co. are each out on $100 bonds after pleading not guilty of respective charges of assault and battery and reckless driving.

Lynaugh was arrested on a warrant signed by Ogilvie yesterday afternoon following an altercation near the packing plant where Lynaugh is working on road construction. Ogilvie attempted to cross a strip of road under construction after he had been warned not to trespass. Ogilvie attempted to cross and Lynaugh took physical methods of stopping him. Ogilvie was arrested on a warrant charging him with reckless driving signed by John Icke road contractor. Ogilvie immediately signed a warrant for Lynaugh's arrest charging him with assault and battery. Their cases will be heard Saturday morning.

Henry Ford Planning Water Power Development in the State, Says His Representative

By CHESTER C. PLATT

A representative of Henry Ford, who is interested in developing water power sites in Wisconsin, appeared against the Eber bill which would hold up water power development for six years preceding a survey by the state railroad commission. This measure, engrossed by the assembly, is before the finance committee for consideration.

R. A. Walter, former state senator from Michigan and Ford representative asked the committee whether passage of the Eber bill would not "stop the wheels of progress in Wisconsin by putting a stop to water power development."

He told the committee that the Ford company owns several sites in this state and that Mr. Ford has under consideration extensive water power development, unless held back.

"Mr. Ford feels it criminal to burn coal when the same energy might be provided by water power," Walter said. His idea is to let farmers work on water power sites during the winter months."

J. R. McDonald, a contractor who is building hydro-electric plans in Marinette county, said that passage of the Eber bill would throw out of work 150 farmers now employed by him on the jobs. Numerous other appearances were recorded against the bill which some said was "Utopian."

Lieut. Gov. Comings said he believed this bill marked the beginning of a new era in the devlopment of the state. Electric power is replacing steam power just as steam power superceded hand power and horse power.

Mr. Comings said:

"Let us not wait until the horse is stolen before we lock the stable door. America is the richest country in the world. We have all the needed resources. Yet more farm mortgages have been forclosed in the last ten months than in the preceding ten years."

He told of a farmer in Richland county with 130 acres, well equipped, and with 20 cows. This farmer and his wife do all the work on this farm without any help, and yet they are making no money.

"When we permit private corporations to control hydro-electric power, we are permitting them to control and monopolize one of the necessities of life.

"Had the people retained for themselves water power franchises and other natural resources, publicly owned plants might have earned enough to pay all the expenses of the state, and we would have no controversies over tax bills".

F. M. Doyle representing the chamber of commerce of Ladysmith presented a letter signed by the officers of that organization protesting against the bill.

"The Eber bill would not put a stop to any water power projects now being carried on. It only provides that no new franchises be granted," said a member of the committee.

Hold Driver Of Auto At Stevens Point On Manslaughter Charge

STEVENS POINT— As the outgrowth of an investigation conducted by Portage county authorities to probe the death of Gaylord Mac Nish, local shoe merchant, who was killed in an automobile collision here Saturday night, Charles Werth, Soo line railroad roundhouse foreman of this city was taken into custody late yesterday charged with manslaughter. He is held under $2,500 bail.

Werth was the driver of the car which collided with the Mac Nish machine Saturday night. In the machine with Mac Nish the night of the accident was Selma Nygard, 18, Mt. Horeb girl who is attending the state normal school here.

UNEMPLOYMENT BILL GOES OVER FOR ANOTHER WEEK

Action on the Huber unemployment insurance bill was carried over one week when consideration of the Sachtjen bill took up the entire morning session of the senate. The bill was made a special order for next Thursday morning.

A LEADER in community undertakings in Madison for several years, Arthur O. Hedquist has been offered the position of general secretary of the chamber of commerce at Eau Claire. He will leave Madison next Tuesday morning for that city where he will look over the field and get acquainted with the work.

He wil decide definitely on Tuesday whether he will accept the position. If he does not he will return to his work with the Anchor Savings, Building and Loan association here.

2 of Every 3 Construction Projects Unlet

Commissioner Sees Big Building Slump Ahead Here

Two out of every three building projects in the city are being given up with opening of bids, according to local contractors and architects. The present high cost of materials and the scarcity of skilled workmen is given as the cause in building being held down this year.

The present influx of building permits is looked upon as a spring spurt and little hope is held for its continuance during the remainder of the summer, G. H. Mason, building commissioner, said today. The total cost of building in the city this year however will probably be over that of last year due to the larger building projects now on foot or contemplated for this year. The greatest slump is expected in the building of homes largely due to the increased cost of materials.

Senator Critically Ill, Here in Wheel Chair Votes on Tax Bill

Ben Mahon of Milwaukee, a member of the state senate who is seriously ill with tuberculosis, was brought to Madison in a wheel chair to vote against Gov. Blaine's taxation measure.

Senator Mahon has been so ill that he has been unable to attend the session of the senate for several months. As he is not paired on the tax bill it was necessary to bring him to Madison in order to have his vote count.

Senator Mahon is at the Park and will be taken to the senate chamber when the Governor's bill comes up for a vote.

Heads Of Guard To Talk Cut

Immell Simmons Ranking Officers To Parley Saturday

Ranking officers in each regiment in the Wisconsin National Guard have been called to a conference to be held in the office of the adjutant general in the state capitol at 9 o'clock Saturday morning to discuss plans for the reorganization of the guard necessitated through reduced appropriations, according to an order recently issued by the adjutant general.

The following officers were ordered to appear: Brigadier General General R. B. McCoy, Sparta, commanding the 64th Infantry brigade; Col. W. M. Lee, Oconto, 127th Infantry; Col. George F. O.Connell, Madison, 1st Infantry; Col. James J. Quill, Milwaukee, 105th Cavalry; Col Alvin A. Kuechenmeister, Milwaukee, 120th Field Artillery; Col. Paul B. Clemens, Milwaukee, 128th Infantry; Lieut. Col. Charles R. Williams, Camp Douglas, state quartermaster; and Capt. N. M. Schantz, Mauston, 121st Field Artillery

The order is the first official act of Ralph W. Immell, recently appointed adjutant general.

Harding Will Not Visit Madison, Is Word At Washington

President Harding will not visit Madison this summer.

This was learned by Dan Mowry, general secretary of the Association of Commerce, while he was in Washington, D. C., recently and conferred with the secretary to the president.

He informed Mr. Mowry that the president will make but twelve speeches before he makes his trip to Alaska, and these will be made along the route to the Pacific coast.

Although the itinerary for the president has not been made out, Mr. Mowry was informed that it would be as far south as St. Louis, which leaves no chance of his coming here.

"After the trip to Alaska the president will make one more speech and that is to be given either in Seattle, Wash, or Portland, Ore," Mr. Mowry says.

Special Election For Senate Post Is Called By Preus For June 18

(By the Associated Press)

ST. PAUL, Minn. — A special primary and election was called today by Gov. J. A. O. Preus to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the late U. S. Senator Knute Nelson. The governor set June 18, for the primary and July 16, as the date for the election.

Two U. W. Men Named To Chicago U. Faculty

CHICAGO — Faculty appointments at the University of Chicago announced today include two each from the Universities of Wisconsin and Minnesota, Chauncey S. Boucher and Ernest T. Lane, both of the University of Minnesota. Prof. Boucher will become professor of history and Prof. Wright will be professor of political science. Mr. Lane will be assistant professor of Mathematics and Mr. Mott instructor in political science.

Couldn't Be Free And Remain Sober

Paul Felland, alias Weiland, in jail three times here in five weeks, left town this morning, after persuading Judge A. C. Hoppmann, Superior court, that it was "the best way" out of a bad situation. He couldn't stay sober.

GREEN BAY — Ernest Kobs was fined $100 when he was found guilty of driving an automobile while intoxicated.

One Senator Says He Makes Own Wine; Another Would Blow Heads Off Dry Officers

Sen. Walter Polakowski.

Senator Bilgrien.

Appears Before The Legislative Committee Against Eber Bill

HERE are extracts from the addresses delivered by two senators in the debate on the Sachtjen bill in the senate this morning.

By HERMAN A. BILGRIEN.

I am against these prohibitionists who stick their stork noses into every jug and jar of our housewives looking for moonshine. I have my own orchard and I make my own wine. I would ask Mr. Hutton and Mr. Hicks of the Anti-Saloon league to come and visit me if I was sure that they wouldn't drink too much of the wine that I would offer them.

By SEN. WALTER POLAKOWSKI.

I know of a case on the south side in the city of Milwaukee where two prohibition officials invaded a home where a woman was lying ill. She was in bed and told the officers that she would open the door as soon as she could get dressed. They broke down the door and knocked the woman unconscious and she was in the hospital for seven weeks. I want to say that if I had been in that woman's place and I had a gun and these officers entered my home without a warrant I would have blown their heads off.

Bandit Strikes And Robs 19 Year Boy Here

Adrian Block Loses Watch, Ring And Cash On Main St.

Adrian Block, 19-year-old plumber's apprentice, 24 S. Blair st., was knocked down and robbed of a gold watch, ring, and $4 in cash at 12 o'clock last night by an unidentified man in the 500 block on E. Main st., near St. Patrick's church.

Police are in possession of possible clues which may lead to an arrest shortly.

Block was walking past the church at midnight on his way to his home which is but a block away. As he passed the church a man wearing a grey coat and cap stepped out from the shadow of the building and struck him across the neck with a hard object. The boy was rendered temporarily unconscious.

When he revived the bandit had fled.

Mrs. Martin Ellingson, 523 E. Main St., told police today that she had seen strange man bearing resemblance to the description of the bandit, walking up and down the street shortly before the robbery.

Young Block is a son of John Block, machinist. He is employed by William Owens as a plumber's apprentice.

Engineer Will Tell Of Ways To Reduce Cost Of Building

Some of the problems of home-building and some of the methods of reducing the cost will be discussed by L. Kreamer, building code engineer of the National Lumber Manufacturer's association at a public meeting at 7:30 tonight on the fourth floor of the Cantwell building.

Architects and contractors are planning to be present. The address is sponsored by J. J. Fitzpatrick, Fred Sarles, A. L. Groshong and E. P. Connors, local lumbermen.

Mowry Returns Today From C. Of C. Meeting

Don Mowry, general secretary of the Madison Association of Commerce, returned home today from New York where he attended the convention of Chambers of Commerce of the country. Mr. Mowry spent some time in Washington, D. C. and other points of interest.

Adams, New Senator, Hits At LaFollette

Colorado Appointee Opposed To Progressive Foreign Policies

(By the Associated Press)

DENVER, Colo—Alba B. Adams, of Pueblo, is Colorado's new U. S. Senator. He was appointed today by Governor William E. Sweet. Senator Adams is a Democrat. He will succeed the late Samuel D. Nicholson, Rep., who died in April. The new senator is an attorney. He was born in Colorado and is a son of Alva Adams, three times governor of Colorado. Gov. Sweet ignored recommendations of Ex-Pres. Woodrow Wilson, William G. McAdoo and William Jennings Bryan, in making the appointment.

FATHER LIVED HERE

Alva Adams, father of Alva B. Adams, the new senator from Colorado, was a former resident of Madison, having attended the university here in the 70's. Mr. Adams went to Colorado for his health shortly after finishing at the university, and lived there until his death last fall. His father, John Adams, was sheriff of Dane county 70 years ago.

(By the Associated Press)

DENVER, Colo.—In a statement issued following his appointment today, Senator-Elect Alva B. Adams said:

"As to the operation of railroads, it may be that government ownership and control is the solution of the transportation problem, but I believe that a further test of private ownership of the roads, with continued government supervision, should be made before our system is changed.

"Some parts of the Esch-Cummins railroad bill I do not indorse and I think they ought to be repealed. I favor the repeal of the clause creating the railroad labor board. It has not worked well. It has served as a service of irritation among railroad men.

"I am in sympathy with most of the economic purposes of the farm bloc, but I do not think that blocs should exert their influence to the detriment of the whole, and I doubt their wisdom and propriety when considered as political units other than as economic blocs.

"The international policies of Sen. La Follette and those who agree with him do not meet my approval. The government should stop child labor of the kind that stunts the child's growth, denies him the opportunity for education and robs him of childhood."

Wet Bill Defeated In Senate

Assembly Passes Burke Resolution Asking Congress To Legalize Beer

Roll Call on the Sachtjen Bill in the State Senate

For killing: Caspermson, Garvey, Heck, Huber, Johnson, Kemp, Kuckuk, Lange, Ridgway, Roethe, Schumann. Severson, Smith, Staudenmayer, Teasdale, Titus, Werden—17.

Against killing:—Benfey, Bilgrien, Burke, Cashman, Czerwinski, Gettelman, Hirsch, Moran, Morris, Polakowski, Quick, White—12.

Paired: For killing—Skogmo, and Clark; against killing, Barber and Mahon.

The wet forces of the legislature met a decisive defeat in the senate today when the Sachtjen bill, taking the teeth out of the search and seizure clause of the Severson prohibition enforcement law, was killed, 19 to 14.

This measure, the principal move of the anti-prohibitionists to curtail enforcement, had the indorsement of the governor.

In the assembly the Burke resolution memorializing Congress to legalize beer was adopted 44 to 31.

The drys held their solid bloc of 19 votes in the senate on every roll call. Three attempts to save the measure by amendment were all killed before the final line-up for indefinite postponement.

The Sachtjen bill came before the senate with the understanding that it would be quickly disposed of. Speeches commenced at once however, and continued for more than an hour. The dry forces made no reply.

Wets directed their principal fight for adoption of the Benfey substitute amendment, which modified the original Sachtjen bill to the extent that specific penalties against officers operating under illegal search warrants, were removed. Senator Theodore Benfey, author of the amendment, said that it merely placed the search and seizure section of the Volstead act in the state prohibition enforcement statute.

In an extended talk, during which he quoted from several speeches of Gov. Blaine in defense of the move to amend the search and seizure clause, Senator Benfey declared that he attempted merely to bring the provisions of the Severson act within the constitutional guarantees of the state and federal constitutions.

Two amendments were offered by Senator Schumann, one to protect the home-brewer against search by prohibition officers. This was killed 19 to 12. The other amendment aimed to protect persons manufacturing light drinks was killed 27 to 1.

With the action of the legislature today, all wet and dry proposals are finally disposed of, unless motions are made to reconsider.

The Burke senate resolution memorializing Congress to modify the Volstead act so as to legalize the manufacture and sale of beer was concurred in by the assembly today, 44 to 31. The resolution will now go to Congress, being the only one of several of this nature introduced at this session to receive the indorsement of both houses.

ROLL CALL ON BURKE RESOLUTION

AYES: Allen, Busse, Conway, Duncan, Eber, Eirschele, Ellenbecker, Elsner, Engel, Fredrich, Gauer, Grahn, Hefty, Hillman, Holly, Jung, Kiesner, Killian, Koch, Lindahl, Meggers, A. M. Miller, W. F. Assemblyman Johnson of Burrnett county attempted to defeat the resolution, but his motion for non-concurrence lost, 31 to 45. There was no debate.

Naval Reserve Organize New Society Here

Ensign Rose And Lieut. Ahlstrom To Call Meeting Soon

A meeting to organize a local unit of the United States Naval Reserve Force will be called tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock at the Madison armory over Blied's hardware store at Main and Carroll streets. The men who are interested in establishing this unit and who will conduct the meeting are Ensign R. A. Rose, of the College of Engineering, and Lieutenant R. V. Ahlstrom L 2.

"Young men will be afforded an opportunity to take a vacation this summer with pay and visit all the large ports of the Great Lakes on a regular gunboat or sub-chaser," Mr. Rose asserted yesterday. "Besides this, the young man may select their own lines of work and receive instruction in electrical, steam and gas engineering, radio, clerical work, cooking, pharmacy or seamanship.

"All expenses are paid, including a complete outfit of clothing, five cents a mile railroad fare to and from the point of embarkation, and full sea pay of the regular navy with, of course, board and lodging."

Five cruises, each two weeks long, will be offered and a man can select one or two. In other years units have been given the privilege of being sent to the Atlantic seaboard, cruising down the St. Lawrence past the Thousand Islands and back again. Longer cruises have also been made to the Panama Canal, the Mediterranean and China.

Titus Would Abolish Pulpwood Inspector

Senator W. A. Titus, Fond du Lac, has bill for introduction into the legislature doing away with the office of pulpwood inspector, and transferring the duties of this official to the office of weights and measures.

The Fond du Lac senator says that through this change he will affect a saving of approximately $9,000 to the state annually and will enable a more satisfactory scaling of pulp wood. The present office of pulp-wood inspector is referred to by the senator as a political office that might better be done away with to affect a legitimate saving. He says that through his bill the interests of settlers who supply wood to the mills will be more adequately protected. The senate state affairs committee has endorsed the bill.

Sewage Plant Bonds Arrive And Are Signed

The sewage disposal plant bonds amounting to $200,000 have arrived and have been signed by Mayor I. Milo Kittleson and Harry Buser, city clerk. The bonds were purchased by the A. G. Becker Co., Chicago, the city being paid a premium of $1,700. The bonds will be returned to the company May 17. No work will be started on the actual construction of the plant until the bond issue has been entirely completed.

Madison Water Costs But One Cent a Barrel, Report Shows; $16,000 Is Profit

Plant More Than Pays For Itself; Water High Grade

About three barrels of water a cent, or continuous running through the average household faucet for 10 minutes and the city collects one cent from the consumer, according to Leon A. Smith, superintendent of the municipal water plant which supplies Madisonians with this commodity.

In spite of this low rate the department last year turned over a profit of $16,000 to the city, showing the plant pays for itself. In addition to the success of operation the city is given a drinking supply which is devoid of germs, according to recent tests made by the city health department.

The cost of water at a fire is somewhat higher as the outlets are larger and the pressure greater, enabling the water to get away quicker. Five streams played on a fire for one hour cost the city about $6, or two cents a minute. The ordinary stream of water used in sprinkling lawns and gardens can run steadily for an hour at only a cost of six cents.

Lotus Flower Is Now Protected In State; Blaine Signs Measuhe

The American lotus became a protected flower in Wisconsin today with the Governor's signature to a committee on state affairs bill making it an offense punishable by six months imprisonment to destroy lotus plants.

The conservation commission is instructed to mark places where lotus are found, warning persons against their destruction.

This plant, formerly abundant in the state, is said to be disappearing. It is to give an opportunity for the development of the flower that the law was enacted.

Theosophical Society To Hear National Lecturer

Mrs. Harriet Tuttle Bartlett of Chicago, national lecturer for the Theosophical society, will deliver two lectures in Madison next week under the auspices of the Madison lodge of the society. The dates and topics are: Monday, May 21, Theosophy and the Churches. Tuesday, May 22, Is Reincarnation Taught in the Bible? Both lectures will be given in the public hall of the city library at 8 p. m. Mrs. Bartlett spoke here over a year ago.

April Building Contracts In State Were $9,344,600

April building contracts in Wisconsin amounted to $9,344,600, according to F. W. Dodge Corporation. This was an increase of 9 per cent over the March figure, although it was 4 per cent less than the amount for April of last year. On construction started from January 1 to May 1, Wisconsin has been running 11 per cent ahead of last year's record.

Last month's figures included: $3,506,400, or 37 per cent for public works and utilities; $2,108,200, or 23 per cent, for residential buildings; $1,333,600, or 14 per cent for business buildings; and $1,118,000, or 12 per cent, for educational buildings.

U. Of W. Methodist Missionaries Will Elect Heads June 6

The great obstacles that missionaries must meet with in India and the peculiar customs and characteristics of the Chinese were discussed at the University Methodist Missionary society yesterday afternoon. Miss Lydia Gobar and Mrs. E. L. Eaton led the discussion on China. Mrs. Fred Kellly read a paper on "The Indian Church," the last chapter of "Building with India," the book which the society has been reading.

Mrs. Howard Hare, Mrs. Ray Roberts, and Mrs. F. Oust gave a two-act play, "At the Well." Without scenery or costumes, they presented a clear picture of the conversion to Christianity of a young, abused Hindoo widow. Mrs. George Garrigan sang "Love in the Southland" by Dorothy Canfield.

It was voted that the next meeting be held June 6 Election of officers will take place.

Mrs. Kelly, in speaking of the Christian church in India, said that although it helped to wipe away many handicaps by furthering education and increasing the number of ministers, teachers and great political leaders, yet the caste system caused trouble.

Float Entries Due Saturday At University

Registration For Venetian Parade Required, Is New Ruling

Registration of all the boats to be entered in the Venetian night contest and parade must be made by Saturday evening, according to an announcement last night by Helen Kingsford '24, chairman of the float committee.

The reason for the early registration deadline was declared to be because of the information needed by the electrical committee, headed by Sidney Thorson '24. The number of lights which each float will be allowed to use will be determined by the number of floats in the water parade.

The registration of fraternities and organizations must include a detailed report of the character of each float with the length, the number of lights needed, and the nature, whether a canoe or barge, accurately stated. A report of what each float will be allowed in the matter of lights will be published by the committee after the complete registration has been made.

Registration of floats can be made with Wills Sherman '25 F 830, Georgia Stanchfield '24, B 3212, or Helen McLandress '23, F 311. Arrangements for barges and canoes can be made with "Cap" Isabel at the university boat house, it was announced last night.

"More interest has been shown this year in the contest for best float than in any previous year. Many organizations are making extensive for decorated barges and effects," Miss Kingsford asserted.

Rewey Dairymen Make Big Showing With Cows

REWEY — Rewey dairymen tested 420 cows during the month of April. Two hundred and five of these cows produced more than a pound of butter fat a day. Seventeen herds averaged over 30 pounds of fat and 87 cows qualified for the 40 pound class; 20 members of the cow testing association are feeding well balanced ration and nearly all feeding grain to dry cows.

Freezing Temperatures At Night Delaying Crops In Wisconsin

Freezing temperatures three nights during the week over the entire state did but slight damage to crops, according to the weekly report of W. P. Stewart, Milwaukee, meteorologist. The damage was confined mainly to some fruits and berries in lowlands in southern counties and to some early truck.

The report states that the weather during the week was too cold and dry for satisfactory germination or growth, and that higher temperatures are badly needed.

Karstens Clothing Section

Features

Two Types of Clothing

Karstens, served not by one maker, but by a half dozen best makers, has a selection broad enough to give you just what you want. For example---

For the Man Who Emprasizes Style

If you are looking for the newest in cut, fabric, and pattern, if your dress ideas are more or less positive and decided, let us suggest the new sport suit with low full belt, loose fitting, and light in material and color. The English cut models are also very good with their straight full lines or slightly shaped to the body. Karstens has a large selection in color and material. They represent the latest style developments. Priced from

$45 to $60

For the Man Who Emphasizes Wear and Price

Many men, if not most of them, look for "just a good suit of clothes", conservatively designed, neat and attractive in appearance, and moderately priced. These are the medium colored and darker fabrics, mostly the hard finished worsteds which assure the maximum of wear. Karstens particularly features this type of clothing. Blue or grey serges, hard or unfinished worsteds in stripes and neat patterns. All sizes up to 48 from $30 to $40

Clothing for the Hard-to-fit---a Hobby

If you are a long stout or a short stout, tall and slim or short and stubby Karstens have models in stock which will fit you, or facilities which will get them here upon very short notice. That ought to take a load off your mind.

Barber Gives Blaine Men a Close Shave!

Senator Joseph Barber

Why is Senator Barber absent?

This was a query that nettled progressives last night.

Barber was elected as a progressive. The tax bill is the most important bill of the session. And yet Barber absents himself without leave of absence and without pairing on the measure.

No word was received from the missing Marathon county senator yesterday. It was said that he went home two weeks ago to plant potatoes on his farm. Sergeant-at-arms Leicht was unable to reach Barber by long distance phone last night.

Meanwhile Blaine adherents in the senate are stewing over Barber's absence.

Report China Troops Clash With Bandits

Anxiety For Captives Is Increasing After Battle In Mountains

(By the Associated Press)

PEKING— V. Barube, a Frenchman who was among the captives held by the Suchow bandits has been released on parole and has arrived at Tsao Chwang with further demands from the captors for the removal of the troops. It is expected he will return to the bandit headquarters today in accordance with the promise he made on leaving.

(By the Associated Press)

Anxiety over the foreign captive held in the Shantung hills by Chinese bandits was heightened today when word reached Tientsin from Tsao Chwang of a clash between troops of the Chinese government and members of the outlaw band.

A detachment of bandits attempting to join the main body at the Paotzuku mountain stronghold was said to have been driven back after a sharp fight with the soldiers. This incident may add fuel to the vindictiveness of the bandits, who already are described in an unconfirmed report to have hurled three Chinese captives over a precipice to their deaths as a warning. The bandits reportedly have threatened to kill all their prisoners if the troops were not withdrawn and the bandits granted immunity and enrolled in the national army.

Further advices confirmed the report that the bandits had moved their captives farther back into the wilderness.

97 "Piggly Wiggly" Chicago Units Sold For Over $1,000,000

(By the Associated Press)

MEMPHIS, Tenn. — Conferences between Clarence Saunders, president of Piggly Wiggly Stores, Inc., and members of the pool which had been associated with him in recent sensational activities of the corporation's stock continued today uninterrupted by announcement late last night that the 97 units of the company in Chicago had been sold to Chicago financiers. Names of the purchasers were not published by Mr. Saunders who declared that the price for the Chicago stores was more than a million dollars," and that the terms were cash payable within seven days. Proceeds from the Chicago sale are to be used in liquidating bank loans made during the Piggly Wiggly stock flurry of several weeks ago which resulted in catching "short sellers" in a jam.

Names 7 Relatives Of Senator

Estate Of Late Solon Will Total Between $100,000 And $500,000

Seven Dane county residents, relatives of the late Sen. Knute Nelson of Minnesota, are named beneficiaries in the will filed at Alexandria, which shows the estate of the late solon to be worth between $100,000 and $500,000.

Miss Margaret Nelson, daughter of Sen. Nelson's nephew, Iver Nelson, of Deerfield, will receive $3,000; William and Alvin Nelson, sons of a nephew, Henry Nelson, Deerfield, will each receive $1,000; Martha Nelson, wife of Wilson Nelson, a half brother living at Deerfield, is to receive $2,000.

His two nephews, Iver Nelson and Henry Nelson, of Deerfield, are each to receive $1,000.

William Nelson, Deerfield, another half brother, will get all of the Wisconsin reports and digests and law text books left by the late senator.

The remainder of the estate, after a few small bequests is to be held in trust estate by Ex-Gov. Preuss of Minnesota, from which he is to pay the Senator's daughter, Ida G. Nelson, $1,500 annually as long as she remains married. If she becomes single by divorce or death of her husband, A. G. Nelson, the trust estate is to be divided, half to go to her and the remaining half to be equally divided between two brothers, William and Henry, Deerfield. In case the daughter dies a married woman, the entire estate will go to these Wisconsin descendents.

Among the other bequests are $1,500 to Henry Nelson, Whitewater, a half brother, and to the Norwegian Lutheran church of America, in trust for St. Olaf's college, all books and papers from the senator's private library in Norwegian language, and an oil painting of Bergenlien, On the Way to Church.

$100,000 Subscribed By County Merchants; To Buy Company Here

Merchants of Madison and adjoining villages have subscribed about $100,000 of stock toward the purchase of the Creasey Corporation, it was announced today. The business men will incorporate about June 1 for $200,000, and will continue to sell stock until the full amount is subscribed. The new concern will be known as the Sylvester Co., wholesale grocers, and Sidney M. Sylvester, present manager of the Creasey Corporation, will remain as manager of the company.

Intensity of Sunshine Diminished 2 Per Cent In 1 Year, Says Scientist

Local Forecaster In Statement Explains Phenomena Of Sun

That intensity of sunshine diminished about two and one half per cent from November 1921 to September, 1922 is the information contained in a communication which Eric R. Miller, local forecaster, sends to The Capital Times. Mr. Miller's communication follows:

"Your readers may be interested to know the facts behind the story about the decrease of the sun's heat.

"Measurements of the sun's heat require large corrections on account of the absorption by the air. These corrections amount to about 25 per cent and are uncertain because the distribution of water vapor, ozone, etc., in the atmosphere is unknown.

"The Smithsonian Institution, of which Dr. C. G. Abbot is director, has two observing stations in the deserts of Arizona and Chile, and has been developing more exact methods of observing and correcting observations of the heat of the sun. Dr. Abbot reported that the results of the observations in Chile and Arizona agreed so closely, after correction, that he feels confidant that the result of one good day's observations at one station is within four tenths of one per cent of the true value.

"In the same report Dr. Abbot presented the results of observations since 1918, from which it appeared that the intensity of sunshine diminished about two and a half per cent from November, 1921 to September, 1922, and he states that further, incompletely reduced observations show a further decrease. The record presented in his paper goes back only to 1918, and shows variations going on continuously in periods of 8 or 9 months, and amounting to about one per cent of the total intensity of the sun.

"Now what has been the effect on the weather? The answer is that there have been no fluctuations that have not been exceeded in previous years. Of the twenty months since September 1921, fourteen have averaged above normal temperature, at Madison, and these include September, October, November 1922, and January, 1923, right at the bottom of the drop in the sun's intensity."

"As to the persons named in the article in your paper as responsible for the dire predictions, Herbert J. Browne is no meteorologist at all. He has no standing as a scientific man.

"Prof. Ellsworth Huntington is the author of numerous sensational works on meteorology and climatology, the last of which was severely criticised in a review in Science for gross errors in elementary physics, and arithmetic.

"Dr. Abbot is an eminent scientist, and his reports on the variations in the intensity of solar radiation are entirely reliable. As to the effects of the variations he writes in the article above referred to:

> "Whether this has an important bearing on the unusual weather of recent months will be for meteorologists to decide."

The position of the meteorologist may be seen from the following remarks by Dr. Charles F. Marvin, chief of the U. S. Weather Bureau, in a letter which I have just received from him on this subject:

> "The conservative scientist must patiently wait at least until we are through the present epoch of sunspot minima before he can venture to entertain conclusive opinions as to what the solar radiation intensities may be under such conditions. Revised and adjusted observations of solar radiation are available to us now for the first time for our studies.

Mother Locks Door on Pair; Calls Officer

Couples Escape Through Window; Held On Statutory Charge

Mildred Ballentine and T. M. Rosenbaum, South Madison man and woman, are being held in the custody of the sheriff today in default of $1,000 bail each, after pleading not guilty to a statutory charge preferred by Fannie Hamilton, police matron, at the request of the Ballentine girl's mother.

The arrest of the couple followed the complaint of the mother to Mrs. Hamilton yesterday when she alleged that she found Rosenbaum and her daughter in her own bed room. She locked the door on them and hurried to Madison police headquarters.

When Sheriff Julius Krug arrived at the Ballentine home in Bram's addition to South Madison yesterday, the couple had made their escape through a window.

38 Divorces, 32 Marriages Get Judge Worried

(By the Associated Press)

SUPERIOR, Wis. —The fact that young couples are more inclined to buy automobiles rather than homes is blamed by Judge William E. Haily for the fact that there have been 38 divorces in Douglas county since Jan 1, and only 32 marriages.

Judge Haily declared that the divorce laws are not too lenient but that it is too easy to be married. He advocates the creation of commissions in each county to pass on the qualifications of couples desiring to secure marriage licenses.

"Selfishness and the desire for pleasure lead to innumerable divorces," he says. "Poverty and unemployment are also important causes."

Home ownership, he declares, to be the greatest stabilizer for matrimony.

Boys And Girls Stock Show Here In October

The annual junior livestock show for Badger boys and girls will be held at the stock pavilion, Oct. 24, 25 and 26. Only baby beeves, lambs, and pigs will be eligible for entry in the various classes in the show.

Police Patrol To Guard Lake Homes Is Plan

Cottage Owners Propose Way To Protect Summer Homes

A sectional patrol system along the shores of Lake Mendota near Merril Springs and Mendota Beach will probably be instituted at the close of the camping season next fall to prevent further offenses of Madison couples who make a practice of breaking into summer cottages for petting parties on winter nights, it was announced today by Ralph Pearson.

This plan which was fostered by Pearson and Joseph Fitzpatrick, owners of cottages at Merril Spring, last fall, has been given added support by other cottage owners this spring because of the frequency of the trespasses made upon their closed cottages this past winter and the amount of damage that has accompanied these acts.

The approach of the summer season and the consequent use of most of the cottages during the next few months by their rightful owners will make is unnecessary to adopt the system before fall.

Under this plan a number of cottage owners at different sections of the lake shore will hire one man who will live in one of the cottages during the winter months and guard the closed summer homes against marauders.

Two Freshmen To Be Tried By Court Tonight

Tradition Violators To Be Prosecuted At University

The Student court will try the cases of two freshmen tonight at 7:15 o'clock in the court room on the third floor of the Law building for violation of the green cap tradition. The trial is open to everyone.

The cases have been reported by chairmen of the Sophomore tradition committee. An investigation of the cases has been conducted by the court.

Victor Werner L 2, will be the prosecuting attorney for the cases will preside. Other members of the Student court are Mendez Hanson '24, William Hartman '23, George Geiger '23, Martin Paulson L 3, E. Walter Anderson '23, Henrick Gregg '24, Rufus Phillips '23 and J. S. Packard '24.

"It is a matter of just what the constitution states. The wearing of the green caps must be enforced." Francis Lamb '23, secretary of the Student Senate said last night.

"The Student court is granted authority by the faculty and the Board of Regents to try all cases of discipline and to penalize in cases of conviction." Maynard Brown '23, president of the Student Senate said last night.

"On page nine of the senate charter granted by the faculty and the Board of Regents is the following clause 'The Student court is hereby constituted the judicial organ of the Student senate, to conduct all judicial proceedings and impose all penalties arising under an enactment of the Student senate.'

"The court tried the scalping cases last fall and convicted two. We know the freshmen will be given as fair and as deliberate a trial as the scalpers were last fall," Brown concluded.

37 Per Cent of Service Men in Milwaukee Workhouse Have Physical Disabilities

Defects Were Due To Disabilities Sustained In The Army

The need for a mental and physical examination of all former service men incarcerated at penal institutions was again emphasized by Drs. W. F. Lorenz and W. S. Middleton who have just completed a survey of the inmates of the Milwaukee House of Correction.

These doctors reported that "among the men examined at the house of correction 24, or 37 per cent. were suffering from physical disability which we regarded as of service origin. This is a relatively larger number than what we found at the state prison and bears upon the need of making a mental and physical survey of these inmates."

The report said that 63 per cent of the men examined in the house of correction were single, while at the state prison 53 per cent were found to be unmarried and 66 per cent at the reformatory. Twenty-three per cent of the inmates were found to have dependent children.

"We are again struck with the similarity in our findings at the various state institutions when it is noted that 32 per cent of the men examined gave a definite history of economic stress associated with their offense," the doctors reported. "We found that 34 per cent of the cases had alcoholism definitely associated with the offense that lead to arrest and conviction. In no instance could we determine that drugs or drug addiction was concerned."

The report on the house of correction was filed with Gov. Blaine.

New German Comedy To Be Offered Here

The Chicago German Theatre Co. will present in German at the Turner hall Saturday at 8:15 p. m., the German musical comedy, "Gottchens Hochzeitstag." It is one of the newest German comedies, clean in every respect and has been played many times in the best theaters in Germany, always with great success. The cast is the original Chicago cast, consisting of the best German actors in this country. The cost of this first-class performance is very high and the management asks all the German societies to support this play and bring their friends to the Turner hall.

Janet Breitenbach Is Given Ovation; Work Marked By Delicacy

By EUNICE NECKERMAN

An unusually large audience applauded Janet Breitenbach at her senior recital last evening in Music Hall, and by the time she had finished her program, the stage was heaped with flowers.

The first group consised of Gluck, Scarlatti, Bach, masters of the early period who wrote for the harpsichord. These numbers had been arranged for a modern piano by Brahms, Tausig, and Saint-Saens respectively. Miss Breitenbach played these charmingly, with delicate pianissimos and lightness of touch.

To the Schumann g Minor Sonata, which is typical of the romantic school, Miss Breitenbach paid attention to the lyric characteristics and Schumann's trait of avoiding the accent. This understanding of her composer combined with extraordinary brilliant technique and graceful nuances gave this number a particularly artistic interpretation.

Her Liszt Etude showed a feeling for melody, but the Liszt Hungarian Rhapsody No. 13 was the climax of the evening. Miss Breitenbach used her cumulative effect, sure octave technique, and toneful fortissimo in a heroic interpretation.

The Saint-Saens Concerto for two pianos displayed contrasting effects from pianissimo to fortissimo, a resonant melody with well modulated accompaniment, and a delightful sense of rhythm. The lilting melody of the Allegro Scherzando and the agility of the Presto were outstanding features. Miss Frances Landon played the orchestral parts at the second piano so well, that the two pianos seemed like one.

Miss Breitenbach has poise, and an easy, graceful stage presence.

Why Do So Many Chickens Die In Shell?

U. S. Ag Bureau Replies To Anxious Letters Of Poultrymen

Washington Bureau,
The Capital Times.

Washington, D. C.—One of the questions most frequently asked of the Federal department of agriculture is, why do fully-formed chicks die in the shell? Practically every breeder who employs an incubator has this experience sooner or later, and during the hatching season there always is a flood of letters seeking information.

Federal experts say that they are unable to tell why chickens that pick their way through the shell are unable to complete the arduous journey. If there is no fault in the incubator, the only logical explanation of the condition is lack of egg fertility.

This lack may have any number of causes behind it, mismanagement of the breeding pens being one of them. Eggs may have been kept too long before being incubated, or they may have been chilled, or they may have been kept where it was too warm, or they may have been too roughly handled.

The only advice the government offers is to be exceedingly careful in the selection and treatment of eggs to be incubated. They should not be permitted to chill, the best temperature being between 45 and 65 degrees. If the temperature can be maintained evenly, so much the better.

Poultry canker, indicated by white or yellowish patches in the mouths of fowls, shows the presence of roup, fowl diphtheria and some digestive disorders. Damp quarters are generally to be blamed for canker. The treatment is to give attention to the disease that has produced it. Local application to the canker of undiluted creolin upon a small cotton swab may help.

Ag Experiment Station Will Exhibit Results

Exhibits showing the work of the various departments of the Wisconsin experiment station in their efforts to build Wisconsin farming will form the backbone of the morning program of the annual station day, June 22, at university farms. A trip to the big reclaimed university marsh showing the trials in progress there will make the forepart of the day's program an attractive one.

This is the statement of E. L. Luther, in charge of the summer demonstrations, for the Wisconsin college of agriculture. Following a big picnic lunch at noon with entertainment features, thousands of Badger state farmers will hit the trail out to the hill farms for an inspection trip. The use of TNT and other war salvaged explosives for rock blasting and a soybean demonstration will be stressed in this year's program.

The Government Repays
You on May 20th

When the federal government calls in your bonds of the Victory issue you will be faced with the problem of reinvesting the funds you receive. We offer two suggestions:

1. If you desire a tax exempt security purchase the new issue of United States notes, which bear 4¾%. The return is excellent for a non-taxable investment, and the safety is of course unquestioned.

2. If you wish to invest in securities bearing the highest rate of interest that is compatible with safety, purchase our Real Estate First Mortgages or Mortgage Bonds. These have been a favored form of investment for years, and our record of fourteen years of continual service without a single loss to an investor recommends them to the conservative investor.

Whichever of the two solutions you may take, we will be glad to arrange the transfer of your Victory notes into either of the above securities without charge.

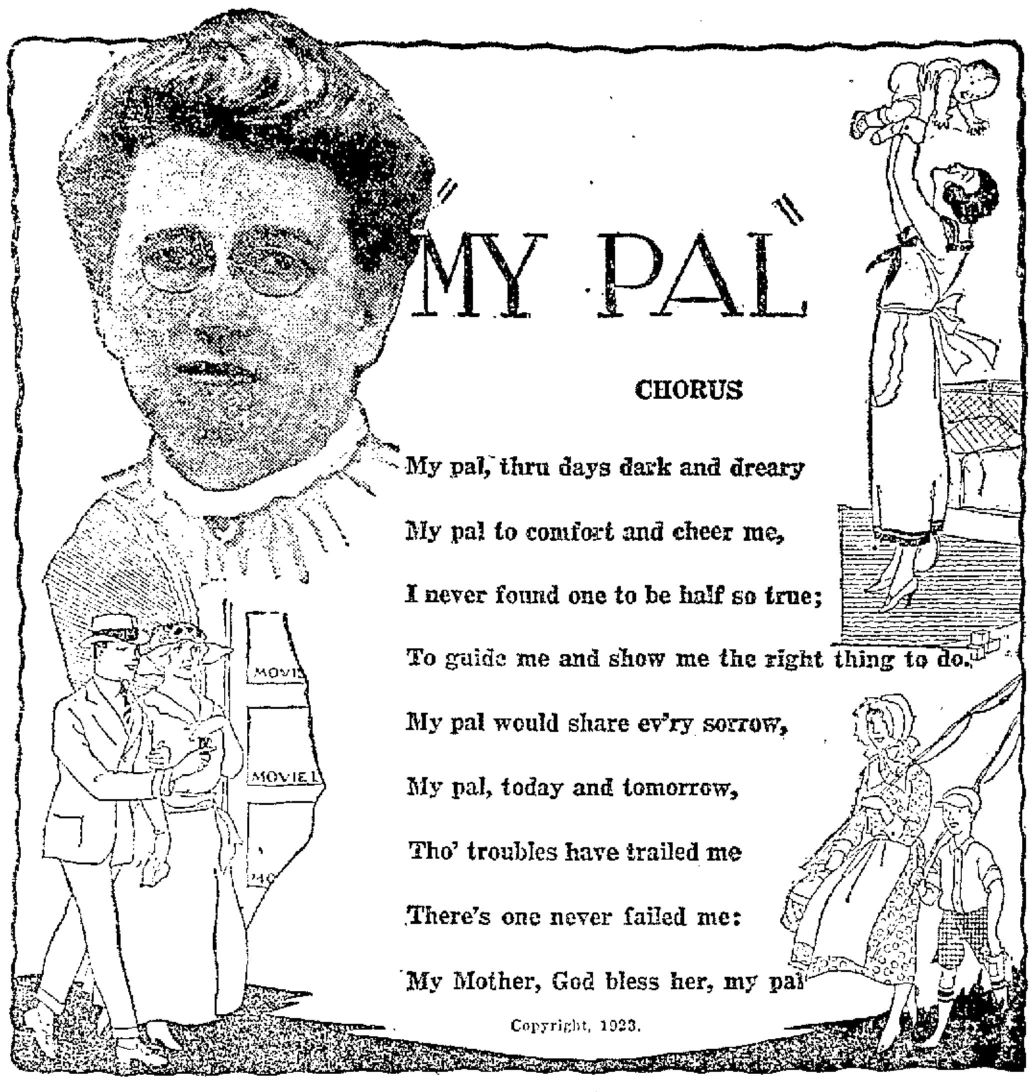
Is The Modern Mother More Pal Than Parent?



"MY PAL"

CHORUS

My pal, thru days dark and dreary
My pal to comfort and cheer me,
I never found one to be half so true;
To guide me and show me the right thing to do.
My pal would share ev'ry sorrow,
My pal, today and tomorrow,
Tho' troubles have trailed me
There's one never failed me:
My Mother, God bless her, my pal

Copyright, 1923.

Author of New Song for Her Day Thinks So, Anyway.

That barometer of American life, the popular song, is responsible for a new register of what the vote and "this freedom" have done for mother.

Twenty years ago, lyricists wrote fervently of a self-sacrificing, adoring woman in comfortable but unfashionable clothes, whose only interest in life was her home and children.

Now the same interpreter depicts mother as a pal who dresses smartly, cultivates pep and goes fishing and to the movies with the boy.

"But," says Joe Burke, who's written "My Pal," this year's Mother's Day song and dedicated it to his own mother. "whatever you may call her, you can bet mother is always on the job when a feller needs a friend. She never has failed him and she never will, no matter how modern she gets."

Purchase Of Madison Postal Site Will Be Made Soon, Says Mowry

The purchase of the proposed site for Madison's new postoffice will be made by the federal government as soon as a few legal matters are settled, Don Mowry, general secretary of the Association of Commerce here, was assured by Edward Clifford, first assistant secretary of the treasury, in Washington this week.

"I was in consultation with Mr. Clifford relative to the purchase of the property," Mr. Mowry said, "and the secretary stated that payment for the property would be made very promptly."

The treasury delayed, according to Mowry, awaiting papers from U. S. Atty. W. H. Daugherty.

"The treasury appreciates the fact that Madison is growing rapidly and that our postoffice revenues show a new postoffice is needed," Mowry added.

Bump Declares Inland Water State Property

The state has complete jurisdiction and control over all inland lakes and waters, Franklin E. Bump, assistant attorney-general, told Assemblyman Lawrence Timmerman, Milwaukee, in an opinion today.

"Jurisdiction over these waters is with the state exclusively and not in any way in the federal government except as to navigable waters over which the United States government has asserted control in fact," he said.

Signs Bills Regulating Locomotive Equipment

Two bills dealing with equipment on locomotives, were signed today by Gov. Blaine. One by Assemblyman Allen, Superior, requires that railroad engines weighing over 100,000 pounds shall be equipped with independent or straight air brakes, while the other by Price, requires that locomotives operated in the winter be equipped with side curtains. Two technical bills relating to contracts, both sponsored by Assemblyman Olson, were signed.

Forensic Frat At U. W. Initiate 5 Members

M. B. Olbrich, Madison attorney, Wayne L. Morse '23and Prof. J. M. O'Neil, of the department of speech, were the speakers at the initiation banquet of Delta Sigma Rho, honorary forensic fraternity, Tuesday evening in the city Y. M. C. A.

The initiates were Wilbur G. Katz '24 Henry Blake '24, Charles Rawson '23, K. Frances Karel '23, and Arthur L. Thorson L2.

The following quotation from an article by Pres. Alexander Meiklejohn of Amherst ollage was read at the meeting:

"I see it most clearly when I try to single out from a long line of students some one group which shall stand forth as intellectually the best—best in college work and best in promise for future intellectual development. Much as I should like to do so, I cannot draw the line around my own favorite students in philosophy, nor the leaders in mathematics, nor those successful in biology; nor can I fairly award the palm to the Phi Beta Kappa men who have excelled in all their subjects. It seems to me that stronger than any other group, tougher in intellectual fibre, keener in intellectual interest better equipped to battle with coming problems, are the college debaters—the men who, apart from their regular studies, band themselves together for intellectual controversy with each other and with their friends from other colleges."

Cottages On Waubesa To Have Marine Mail Service, Devine Says

The Wirka Boat line was awarded the contract for marine mail service to cottages on Lakes Monona and Waubesa, according to word received by Postmaster W. A. Devine today. The service will take care of about 141 cottages on the Waubesa shore alone and all cottages on Lake Monona. The contract calls for one trip daily unless weather conditions are too severe.

Extension of the service to Waubesa cottages has long been sought by Mr. Devine. The route will have a distance of 2 4miles, the longest marine route in the city. The service will open on Waubesa July 1 and conclude Sept. 15. The Mendota and Monona service will open June 1 to complete the old contracts which close June 30. T. E. Purcell has been awarded the contract for Lake Mendota.

Devereaux Players Will Be Here In July

The Devereux players of New York will give several plays in the open-air theater July 18-21, according to Dean S. H. Goodnight, director of the summer session.

The custom of having professional players present plays each summer has been followed at the summer sessions for several years. Last year players from the Shakespeare playhouse, New York, gave four plays. The Devereux players have appeared during summer session several times in the past.

Commons Serves On Arbitration Board

Prof. John R. Commons returned Tuesday from Chicago where he had been serving on the arbitration board in behalf of the employers and employees of the clothing business of that city.

Last year an agreement was first made that at the first of every May an arbitration board meet and take up the questions of wages and unemployment insurance in that industry involving 37,000 persons.

This board is composed of Professor Commons, David Friday, and W. M. Leiserson.

This year the board decided that a wage increase of eight and a half percent should be allowed. One and one half percent of this amount should be paid into an unemployment fund, another one and one half percent to be contributed by the employers.

"It's Over, Over There," Says Psychologist-Song Writer

OVER THERE
GOOD NIGHT
Tempo di Valse
Good-night,—dear, good-night,— For the last time to-night hold me tight.—

Famous Bugle Call Used To Interpret Spirit of the Day

New York City.—Psychologists who predicate human action from observation of humans at play, say that America is due for a long era of peace. They draw this conclusion partly from a study of the songs and games which engross the energetic younger generation just now.

The new peace conference game with its pawns all moving for harmony, which children have substituted for checkers, is an interesting example. So is "Good Night," a waltz built on the bugle theme of "taps." This song sounds the peaceful end of the dance on most ball room floors about "three o'clock in the morning," these days.

Con Conrad, who wrote it, says he's finishing what George Cohan began when he built "Over There" on reveille.

"It's a sort of way of letting the public in on a grand celebration of the end of the war," Mr. Conrad explains. "Using 'taps' to close the dance today seems to emphasize that it's really 'over, over there.'

"I have just returned from two years in Europe where I tried several times to write the song, but the chaotic conditions got under my skin and I simply could not work on a relaxing peaceful tune. But here at home I could immediately sense that for us anyway, it really is 'over.'"

Scouts Will Cook For Girl Friends On Hike Sunday

"Are you a Boy Scout?"

"Do you belong to Troop 20?" are the questions the girls at Central high are asking the boys now. And all because the troop is taking a high Sunday on which each scout will bring a girl. The practice of the red man will be reversed, and each scout will do the cooking for his partner. Lake Forest will be the destination of the hike, which will start about 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon. A camp fire, games, and a camp fire story by Big Bill Blake, scout master of the troop will be features.

Postmaster Convention Will Be In September

The convention of state postmasters and employes to be held here in June has been changed to September, Don Mowry, general secretary of the Association of Commerce learned while in Washington, D. C. this week. Mr. Mowry conferred with J. H. Bartlett, first assistant postmaster general who informed him of the change in date. The change was made because of conflicts of the various state conventions. Mr. Bartlett expressed his belief that either postmaster general, Harry New, or himself will attend the convention.

City Council to Work Out Traffic Rules

Would Regulate Marking Of "No Parking" Places Here

Traffic problems of the city may be taken up at the next meeting of the city council, it was intimated at the city hall today by aldermen.

One of the matters will be the custom of marking off no parking spaces in front of business houses. Ald. George A. Trachte today declared that he felt some regulation should be made governing the custom before it becomes too prevalent.

The spaces prohibiting parking are gradually increasing. At present the zones are being marked off without any supervision by the city.

Mayor I. Milo Kittleson scored the habit of motorists of discharging passengers in the middle of the street. The habit is dangerous to passengers alighting and causes a blockade of vehicles following.

Nominations To Red Gauntlet Announced

Nominations for officers of Red Gauntlet, sophomore women's organization, were announced at the Green Button banquet for all freshmen girls at the Woman's building last night. Mrs. C. B. Nominations from the floor for the same offices include Margaret Wegener '26 and Bernice Klug '26, president; Dorothy Strauss '26 and Julia Peet '26, vice president; Larch Campbell '26 and Virginia Crary '26, secretary; Veve Marquis '26 and Janet Hull '25, treasurer.

Election of officers for Red Gauntlet will take place tomorrow as part of the election.

Engineers To Hear Nichols In Lecture

"Community heating plants save coal, reduce labor, and make for less dirt, since they can afford mechanical devices for the removal of the ashes," G. B. Nichols, Designing and Consulting Engineer of New York City, said in his lecture on "Community Heating as Illustrated at Cornell University and Marcy State Hospital" to a group of junior and senior mechanical engineers in the Engineering auditorium.

"Block heating in which whole city blocks and even whole communities are heated by a central plant is to be a thing of the near future," declared Mr. Nichols.

He then pointed out with the aid of slides the problems experienced in the construction of the two plants under discussion.

Mr. Nichols is making a lecture tour under the aupices of the American Society of Heating and Ventilating Engineers, and is delivering this lecture at a number of our leading universities.

Parents Are Guests While Boys Perform

Baptist Scouts Entertain Tuesday; Plan Long Auto Trip

Troop 14, Boy Scouts, entertained their parents Tuesday night with a dinner at the First Baptist church. Elmer Ellsworth presided as toastmaster and introduced the speakers.

T. B. Rider, assistant scoutmaster of Troop 14, outlined the summer program, which will begin next Friday with an auto trip to Rockford, where the scouts will be the guests of a Rockford troop and camp out over night.

Rev. J. B. Gleason of the First Baptist church, spoke of the valuable things that scouting accomplishes. "Scouting," he declared, "does four things for the boys; it teaches them self control; it helps develop their minds; it gives the boys the idea that they are social beings, and it makes the boys spiritual, as a scout must be reverent."

L. W. Ketchum, scoutmaster, gave a short talk to tell the parents the significance of the awards that he gave out to the boys. He said, "Scouting is really doing something for the country. Judge Ben Lindsay once said that he had never had a boy scout up before him. A Detroit judge said that the only cases where scouts had been in court were accident cases in which the scouts were in no way responsible."

Badgers were awarded to Robert Blau and King [illegible]. Merit badges were given to John Blau, George Spohn, George Mackin, Harold Allen and Elmer Ellsworth, who also received the senior patrolmaster's badge.

Troop 14 is especially proud of George Mackin, who is now a first Star Scout, and of Harold Allen, who is now a first Life Scout. Elmer Ellsworth, who has a right sleeve covered with merit badges, received a few more to add to his collection in addition to the patrolmaster's badge. He also gave a demonstration of getting fire by friction, doing this difficult feat in 31 seconds.

L. H. Kessler invited the parents to the auditorium of the church, where boy scout pictures and a three-reel film were shown.

Madison Contractor Is Low Bidder On Two Roads In Grant Co.

LANCASTER.—Bids have been awarded and work already begun on state trunk highways 60 and 10 in Grant county. The highway commission at Lancaster opened bids on two projects, May 9. J. L. Burch, Madison, and Young and Austin, Sparta, were low bidders on the two contracts.

The Boscobel-Muscoda road project relocates a crooked stretch of road on state trunk highway 60 in Grant county. This will improve the worst stretch on that highway between Boscobel and Madison.

The following bids were received: Young and Austin, Sparta, Wis., bid $27,302.95; T. H. Gharrity and Sons, Beloit, Wis., $27,395.25; Carter Construction Co., Richland Center, $28,599.78; Jones and Hiest and Lancaster, [illegible]; J. L. Burch, Madison, [illegible]; S. J. Groves and Sons, Minneapolis, Minn., $29,315.27; C. E. Rich and Co., Lancaster, $30,466.17. The low bidder on this project was Young and Austin to whom the contract was awarded.

The Fennimore-Montfort road, the other job, commences about one half mile east of the main street of the city of Fennimore and extends easterly about eight and one half miles on state trunk highway 10.

The following bids were submitted: J. L. Burch, Madison, $75,781.68; T. H. Gharrity, Beloit, $76,000.83; S. J. Groves and Sons, Minneapolis, Minn., $77,351.47; Iowa County [illegible] Co., Mifflin, and M. [illegible], Richland Center, both, [illegible]; Hughes and Olson $82,570.07.

J. L. Burch, Madison, was low bidder on this project.

Extension Conference To Meet At University

The University of Wisconsin has been chosen for the next annual conference of the National University Extension assn. The selection was made at the meeting held in St. Louis last week and is looked upon as a tribute to Dean L. E. Reber as the father of extension work and home education for adults in this country. The association includes the extension divisions of 38 universities in its membership.

Among the speakers at the recent meeting from the state university was [illegible] Dean L. E. Reber, Prof. W. H. Lighty, secretary of the correspondence-study department, and Miss Almere Scott, department of debating and public discussion, and Prof. W. H. Dudley chief of the bureau of visual instruction, which circulates films and slides throughout the state.

Apiculturist Gives Advice To Beekeepers

Fully 80,000 industrious workers live under one roof in harmony.

"The well managed colony of bees actually has 80,000 workers ready for organized labor when the main honey flow starts the middle of June.

"Occasionally one beekeeper in a locality will secure a good many crops, while several neighbor beekeepers will have failures," explains L. P. Whitehead extension agriculturist at the University of Wisconsin. "The successful one secured a crop, not because he had a better location, but because he had tended to the many little details which are so necessary for successful honey production. Crop failures are few with the careful beekeeper."

Hazing in All Forms Is Put Under Ban at Marquette 'U'

(By the Associated Press)

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—Prohibition of hazing in all its forms at Marquette University next year was announced today by the Rev. Simon J. Nichols, dean of men. Abolishment of the class rush, parades thru downtown streets and through varsity village and hair-clipping escapades are included under the drastic order. The freshman cap is not affected, however, and mild enforcement of the rule which requests first year students to don the blue and gold skull caps will be tolerated.

Father Nicolas denied that the ruling was made after the disastrous effects of hazing at Northwestern University and elsewhere were observed. The rule was on the University records before the Mount case came into the limelight, he said.

"Hazing is open to abuses at all times," asserted the dean of men, "and has few, if any good results,—more ill-effects."

Naval Reserve Men Hear Frequent Talks On Military Subjects

Lieut. Col. Julius R. Kline of Chicago, spoke at the first dinner of the army reserve officers at the Madison club Tuesday. About 40 Madison reserve officers were present.

Lions' Two Day Meeting Closes With Banquet

Dances Wind Up Great Convention Here; Go Back To Jungles

The two-day gathering of the Lions in Madison concluded last night with a banquet and dance in the Cameo room, Beaver building, and the various dens returned to their respective jungles.

The convention ended yesterday afternoon with the reading of committee reports and the adoption of resolutions.

The convention adopted a resolution favoring the development of playgrounds as part of the program of the Lions International. It also passed a resolution favoring rotation in the office of district governor, as well as several courtesy resolutions.

The constitution of Lions International was accepted, with recommendations to the International that certain minor changes be made.

Dr. J. A. Holmes, Appleton, district governor, presided over the sessions of the convention and was toastmaster at the banquet. In a short address at the banquet Dr. Holmes paid tribute to the women. Dr. W. T. Clark, president of the Janesville den, spoke on "Mental Examinations for Criminals."

Entertainment was furnished by Ned Melroy, Sheboygan, Irish Jokester, and by C. W. Hitchcock. Thomas O'Connel, Ashland, Prof. W. L. Crowe, Lawrence college, Appleton, and Herman C. Berndt, Fond du Lac, also spoke.

The world's finest and fastest-cooking oil range

This latest New Perfection range is equipped exclusively with Superfex Burners. One burner on every stove is the big Giant Superfex. The others are "Little Giants" or standard size Superfex burners.

The Standard Superfex equals the cooking speed of the ordinary gas burner and is faster than any other oil burner, except its own big brother, the Giant Superfex. The big Giant itself is unsurpassed even by the giant gas burner.

Answers the call for greater cooking speed

THOUSANDS of busy women who for years had been eager to cook faster are now finding complete satisfaction in the New Perfection Oil Range with newly invented Superfex Burners, announced scarcely a year ago.

To suburb and farm it brings at last the longed-for speed of gas. To the city user it affords the added advantage of a fuel costing less than eighty-five-cent gas.

Let your dealer demonstrate how the powerful Superfex Burners answer the speed-call, then look at the other features (especially the new removable porcelain enameled burner tray) that fit this range for year-'round use in any home.

PRICES
(Complete with White Porcelain Enameled Warming Cabinets)
Two-Burner, $47.00; Three-Burner, $58.50; Four-Burner, $74.00; Four-Burner Oven Range, $105.00; Five-Burner Oven Range, $120.00. New Perfection "Live Heat" Ovens from $2.50 to $6.80 additional.

Price of range illustrated $80.80

Without oven and cabinet $58.50

In addition to the new Superfex models, our long established Blue Chimney models of the New Perfection line, used in four million homes, continue to be the world's most satisfactory oil stoves at their lower range of prices.

Lemons Whiten and Beautify Skin; also bleach Tan, Freckles

Mix the juice of two lemons with three ounces of Orchard White, which any druggist will supply for a few cents, shake well in a bottle, and you have a whole quarter-pint of the most wonderful skin softener and complexion beautifier. Massage this sweetly fragrant lemon cream into the face, neck, arms and hands, then shortly note the youthful beauty, softness and whiteness of your skin.

Famous stage beauties use this harmless lemon cream o bring that velvety, clear, rosy-white complexion, also as a freckle, sunburn, and tan bleach because it doesn't irritate.

Mrs. L. Faville Again District Church Head

Congregational Conference Closes At Banquet Here Tonight

Mrs. Louise Faville, Lake Mills, was re-elected president of the Madison district of the Congregational church at the opening session of the convention of the district held in Plymouth Congregational church yesterday. Rev. H. L. Sawyer, Windsor, was elected vice president; Rev. H. H. Ferris, Boscobel, scribe; S. R. Webster, Columbus, auditor; and Rev. Leroy Partch, Columbus, registrar and treasurer. The convention is composed of representatives of 33 Congregational churches.

The convention yesterday was opened with devotional exercises by Rev. Henry Harris, Baraboo, former pastor of the Pilgrim Congregational church here. The address of welcome was given by the Rev. E. Frazer Bell, pastor of the Plymouth church. Harold Haun, assistant principal of the Endeavor academy, and Rev. Jesse Sarles, student pastor, also spoke at the opening session.

Speakers at the meeting held last night were the Rev. R. H. Clarke, Lake Mills, Rev. A. H. Schoenfeld, Mineral Point, and Mrs. Louise Faville.

The conference will close tonight with a banquet at Pilgrim Congregational church. Superintendent T. R. Faville, Lake Mills, will give an address.

Course In Pharmacy Receives Fellowship

The results gained from an investigation of certain waste products in the production of cheese color by S. S. Aiyer, Bangalore, India, a graduate student, has led to the gift of a new fellowship to the department of pharmacy, according to an announcement by Prof. Edward Kremers, director of the Course in Pharmacy.

The fellowship, to be known as the A. J. Marschall Fellowship, will be available for the academic year, 1923-24.

It is the gift of A. J. Marschall, Madison, head of the Marschall Dairy laboratory. The holder of the fellowship is to investigate the waste products of Mr. Marschall's factory in connection with the Wisconsin Pharmaceutial Experiment station.

Program For Dedication of Church Ready

Breyfogel Presides; State And City Officials Will Speak

Prominent city and state officials clergymen of national reputation and numerous Evangelical ministers from all parts of the state are scheduled to take part in the dedication of the new Evangelical church, Wisconsin avenue and E. Johnson street, Sunday, June 3.

Special services on Thursday and Friday preceding the official dedication of the church by Bishop S. C. Breyfogel, Harrisbury, Pennsylvania, will be featured by addresses of many prominent men.

Thursday, May 31, will be known as "Community Night."

E. J. Frautschi, a member of the Evangelical congregation, will be chairman of this meeting. Among the speakers will be J. E. sserschmidt, assistant attorney general; Fred R. Zimmerman, secretary of state; Dr. H. H. Lumpn, pastor of the Episcopal church and President E. A. Birge.

The purpose of this meeting, according to Rev. Lyndon C. Viel, pastor, is to acquaint the community with the church and to establish relations. There will be special music numbers.

Friday, June 1, will be "Evangelical Fellowship Night" and Rev. Viel will personally take charge of the service. At 6:30 a luncheon for the congregation and friends will be held in the basement of the church and services will follow.

Prof. J. S. Stamm, of the Evangelical Theological seminary, Naperville, Illinois, is coming to deliver the address at this meeting. Following his address, formality will be dispensed with and a general fellowship meeting will be in order. Plans are being made to handle a capacity crowd of about 1,500 people Sunday night when the dedication service is to be held. Services will also be held in the morning and afternoon, at which Bishop S. C. Breyfogel will speak. No other speakers will be on the program on Sunday, although special music numbers are being planned.

BISHOP BREYFOGEL

Rev. Viel has written letters to Evangelical ministers throughout the state, extending to them invitations to attend the services. He expects scores of these ministers to be present.

House Passes Weber Bill on School Board

Abolishes Milwaukee Directors; Ask Board Of 11 Members

The assembly today engrossed after debate among the Milwaukee members the Weber bill, with the Duncan substitute amendment, abolishing the board of school directors in Milwaukee and transferring its duties and powers to a board of education of eleven members created by the act.

The bill defining and enlarging the powers and duties of the department of markets was engrossed. The department would be empowered to require the proper labeling of receptacles for food and farm products.

The Dahl bill providing for issuance of court injunctions to restrain violations of the corrupt practices act was finally passed.

The Grahn bill creating an "educational opportunity fund" to supply financial aid to students entering university and making an annual appropriation of $25,000 for the fund was killed without debate.

5 Student Musicians Will Tour For East

Playing jazz and classical music from Seattle, Washington, to Yokohama, Japan, and thence to Shanghai and Hongkong, China, will be the vacation pleasure of the Badger orchestra, a student orchestra of five players.

Word was received yesterday by Bill Thompson '23, orchestra director, from the U. S. Steamship Jackson of the Oriental shipping line that the vessel would leave Seattle, Wash., on July 13. The orchestra will return to Madison next fall.

The players are Bill Thompson '23, Duane Longaker '24, Lloyd Hansen '25, Gordon Roberts '24, and J. K. Kolb '24. The musicians will play for dances in cities enroute to Seattle this summer. They will also give "American jazz" concerts at the hotels in the Orient, returning to Seattle about Sept. 15.

Freight Rates and Valuation

Wide publicity has been given to the statement that the value of all the railroads of the United States does not exceed $12,000,000,000, and that if such valuation had been used during the past three years in making rates all freight rates, including those on farm products, would have been materially reduced.

That statement disregards the railroads' right under the Federal and State Constitutions to earn a fair return on the value of their property, and denies the validity of the valuation made by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

It also disregards the fact that the railroads during the 34 months prior to January 1, 1923, did not earn 4 per cent on $12,000,000,000, although authorized to earn 6 per cent on $18,900,000,000.

If, however, a valuation of $12,000,000,000 had been made the basis for rates instead of the valuation found by the Commerce Commission and the reduction had only applied to freight rates, that reduction could not have exceeded 2.1 per cent of the rates collected in 1922. This conclusion is emphasized by the following facts:

GROSS FREIGHT REVENUES OF ALL CARRIERS FOR YEAR 1922	$4,007,014,655
NET INCOME OF ALL CARRIERS FOR YEAR 1922	776,665,960
5¾% RETURN ASSUMED VALUATION OF $12,000,000,000	690,000,000
EXCESS OF NET INCOME OVER THE RETURN ON THE ASSUMED VALUATION	86,665,960

A deduction of this excess of $86,665,960 from the total gross freight revenues of $4,007,014,655 would have reduced the gross freight revenues only 2.1 per cent. If this reduction of 2.1 per cent had been applied to freight rates, with no reduction in passenger fares or other charges, it would not, in fact, have increased the amount received by the farmer for his products.

GRAIN

A reduction of 2.1 per cent in freight rates means nothing to the individual shipper unless expressed in units with which he is familiar and be large enough to be recognized in commercial dealings. During the year 1922 the Chicago & North Western Ry Co.'s average haul and rates on grain were as follows:

	Average Haul	Average Rates per Bushel	Reduction per Bushel
Wheat	197 miles	7.14 cents	1.5 mills
Corn	256 miles	7.25 cents	1.5 mills
Oats	210 miles	3.29 cents	0.7 mills

A reduction of 2.1 per cent in this company's freight rates would, therefore, have reduced its wheat rates 1½ mills, its corn rates 1½ mills and its oats rate 7-10 of one mill per bushel.

Experience shows that grain does not vary in price at country stations by less than one-half cent per bushel and ordinarily by not less than one cent per bushel. As a result, the assumed reduction in rates on corn and wheat of less than one-sixth of a cent per bushel would not have resulted in the increase of a single cent to the producer of grain.

LIVE STOCK

	Average Haul	Rates per Cwt.	Reduction of 2.1%	Reduction per Animal, Cents
Cattle	240 miles	23 cents	4.9 mills	4.9
Hogs	210 miles	24 cents	5.0 mills	1.0
Sheep	352 miles	26 cents	5.4 mills	0.5

A reduction of 2.1 per cent would have reduced the rates on cattle less than five cents, on hogs one cent, and on sheep one-half a cent per animal, assuming cattle weigh 1,000, hogs 200 and sheep 90 pounds.

Such reductions mean little or nothing to the average producer of farm products, but a loss to the railroads of over $86,000,000.

Billy Dove Wants to Change Her Name

This Is Not a Matrimonial Ad, Men

Billie Dove

BILLY DOVE wants to change her name. This is not a matrimonial advertisement, because Billie wants to change her first name, not her last one. When Miss Billie was a small child she picked the name of Billie and packed it away in a mental hope chest to use when she became a great star. She doesn't know just why she selected it unless it was because she thought one should have a regular stage name, one that sounded programmy and romantic.

"Now I want to change it and I don't know how to replace it," announces Miss Dove. This decision was made quite suddenly while she was filming "The Madness of Youth," with John Gilbert. Whether the name of the picture had anything to do with it or not is a question.

Half of her friends agree that it should be changed and the other half claim it should remain Billie. Now Miss Dove wants her fan friends to tell her what they think about it. To Make Hairs Vanish From Face, Neck or Arms

(Beauty Culture)

Keep a little powdered delatone handy and when hairy growths appear make a paste with some of the powder and a little water, then spread over hairy surface. After 2 or 3 minutes rub off, wash the skin and it will be entirely free from hair or blemish. This simple treatment is unfailing, but care should be exercised to be sure and get genuine delatone, otherwise you may be disappointed.—Adv.

How to Look Years Less Than Your Age

The most aged face will look years younger after the use of ordinary mercolized wax for from one to two weeks. This remarkable substance, because of its peculiar absorptive power, actually removes the thin veil of faded or withered outer cuticle, a little at a time. Gradually the fresher, more youthful skin underneath is revealed. This absorption process being a purely hygienic one, an entirely natural complexion is acquired—quite different from an artificial complexion, which appears anything but girlish, though often bearing painful evidence of childishness. An ounce of mercolized wax, obtainable at any drug store, is sufficient to rejuvenate any complexion. It is put on like cold cream at bedtime, and washed off mornings.—Adv.

A Goldwyn Picture

"TESS" ABSORBING STORY—THIS PROVES IT

It is not very often that the manager of a "movie" theatre is given concrete evidence of the gripping qualities of a picture, according to F. J. McWilliams, manager of the Madison, but the picture now running at the State street theatre furnishes that evidence, and in abundance. "Tess of the Storm Country," Mary Pickford's new production is the picture in question. The actual running time of the picture is nearly two hours and so absorbed does the spectator become that all sense of time and place is lost. The closing scenes show the lovable Tess reconciled to her sweetheart. Snow is seen falling heavily but the lovers are unmindful as they stand outside the door of the "squatter's" shack. The snow gets deeper and deeper and just before the picture closes a flash-back shows them still there oblivious of the fact that the snow has reached a depth of nearly four feet. As the audience files out of the theatre people on all sides can be heard remarking, "Why, I thought it was snowing!" This, according to Mr. McWilliams, is concrete evidence of the absorbing qualities of this particular picture.

Abolish "Cliques" At High School Is Plea Of Club Officers

Officers of the Central high school Student club were initiated at the regular meeting of the club, Tuesday afternoon at the city Y. W. C. A. The new president urged the members to help in abolishing "cliques" furthering comradeship among all the girls of the high school, and in being of service to others.

Four delegates, Nancy Hall, Betty Morgan, Ruth Borchers, and Winnie Siljen were chosen to attend the High School club conference which will be held at Green Lake June 29 to July 9.

Judge Stevens Grants Two Women Divorces

Charges of desertion preferred by two wives won divorce decrees yesterday. Judge E. Ray Stevens heard the arguments in Superior court.

Florence Schneider, who charged that her husband deserted her 30 days after their marriage at Highland, Wis., in January, 1922, was granted an absolute decree from her husband, J. Schneider.

Lulua Douglas and Lawrence Douglas, both colored, were divorced after the wide had alleged the husband's desertion in 1922 after their marriage in 1920.

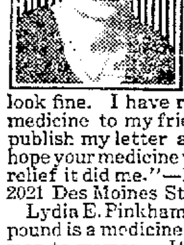
WOMAN SO BLUE SHE CRIED

Because of Ill Health—Tells How She Found Relief by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Burlington, Ia.—"I used to dread the time for my monthly period as it came every two weeks and lasted for two weeks, and during that time I would have the blues and cry. Since I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I am so happy I can hardly express myself. I have gained several pounds and look fine. I have recommended your medicine to my friends and you may publish my letter as a testimonial. I hope your medicine will give others the relief it did me."—Mrs. RALPH GAIL, 2021 Des Moines St., Burlington, Ia.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a medicine for ailments common to women. It has been used for such troubles for nearly fifty years, and thousands of women have found relief as did Mrs. Gail, by taking this splendid medicine.

If you are suffering from irregularity, painful times, nervousness, headache, backache or melancholia, you should at once begin to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It is excellent to strengthen the system and help to perform its functions with ease and regularity.



Galli Curci Is 'Intsitution' Critic Says

Rise To Fame Due To Her Personality And Not Technique

By ADRIAN SCOLTEN

To say that Galli-Curci who will give her recital here on May 21, is an "institution" is not overstating the case. After the soprano's inaugral appearance in opera in this country, the tributes paid to her were so sensational that many believed that Galli-Curci would be the "vogue" for a time only. It seemed incredible to outsiders that a soprano who first dazzled her audience with dizzy flights of coluratura could continue to amaze people year after year. But the doubters did not realize that it would not be chiefly because of her marvelous technical equipment that Galli-Curci would continue to hold sway. They did not then know the lyric phase of Galli-Curci's art, the wonderful cantilena as pure as unalloyed silver, the matchless "floating" quality that has baffled critics who have since tried to analyze her voice. From "Caro Nome," "The Shadow Song," and the "Mad Scene," mediums for display of coluratura singing, Galli-Curci has led her audiences to such lovely simple fragments as "Solveig's Song," "Chanson Indoue," "Lo, Hear the Gentle Lark," "Swanee River," and "Home Sweet Home." It is this great artist who could dazzle with her brilliance and woo with her charming simplicity that has endeared her to the hearts of millions. It was as a "personality" that Galli-Curci became an "institution," not as a vocal technician.

To judge by the number of letters pouring into the offices of her managers, the whole civilized world is craving to hear her. From Australia, England, France, Spain, Japan, and South America come requests for her appearances.

Hedquist Called To Accept A. C. Job By Eau Claire Chamber

Arthur O. Hedquist, publicity director of the Anchor Savings & Building Loan association, has been selected by the Eau Claire Civic and Commerce association as general secretary, it was learned here today. Mr. Hedquist will succeed Mr. O. A. King, resigned, if he accepts the position.

Mr. Hedquist was formerly associated with the Baillie, Hedquist Clothing Co., and when the Baillie connection with the store was sold to O'Connell and Meyer he accepted the position he now holds with the Savings association.

"I haven't yet decided to accept the position," Mr. Hedquist said this morning, "and I won't know until after I confer with the board of directors at Eau Claire."

When Run-down

Weak, or Nervous, or if Backache Afflicts You

This Letter is of Vital Interest To You.

Eau Claire, Wis.—"During my young motherhood Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription was of great benefit to me. I took it whenever rundown, weak or nervous and it proved to be a splendid tonic and nervine. Later in life when backaches and bladder weakness developed, I found that Dr. Pierce's Anuric (backache and kidney) Tablets gave just the relief desired and since I started to take the Anuric I have had no trouble with my kidneys whatever. I recommend these two of Dr. Pierce's medicines very highly because I have found them to be just as represented."—Mrs. Fidelia Missman, 319 Eighth Ave.

CHILD'S STORY OF THE HUMAN RACE

BY RAMON COFFMAN

"Uncle Ray"

CHAPTER 8—PRESSING STONE WITH BONE

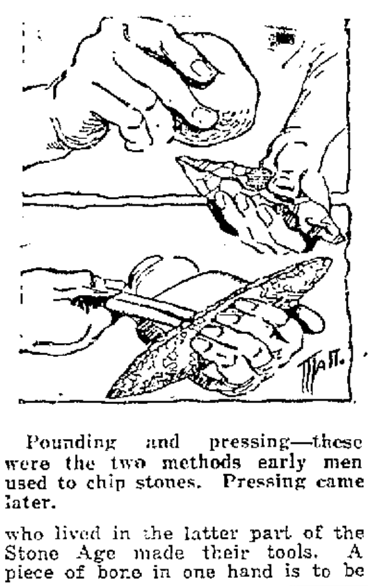
Most of the time during the Stone Age people chipped stones by pounding them with other stones. This way of making tools is shown in the upper part of the illustration. Among the tools made in such a manner were stone knives, axes, borers, scrapers, and hammers. Hundreds of thousands of these have been found beneath cave floors in Europe, Asia and northern Africa.

As thousands upon thousands of years passed, men slowly learned to chip their tools better and better. Some splendid results were obtained in those olden times. Men pounded away on stones—usually flint—and lo! the stones were made into good tools and good weapons.

Then came a time when people in Europe did not chip stones so well. Perhaps the race was becoming rather "worn out."

From time to time, however, tribes from northern Africa and Asia made their way to Europe and refreshed the human stock. Among these tribes were people who lived in the latter part of the Stone Age made their tools. A piece of bone in one hand is to be seen pressing against a stone in the other hand. Trials by scientists have proved the splendid results which can be obtained by this method. Much finer tools and weapons than ever before were made by Stone Age men after this discovery.

Copyright John F. Dille Co.



Pounding and pressing—these were the two methods early men used to chip stones. Pressing came later.

Another important step taken at this time was the cutting of bone to make it better suited to man's use. Among the things made from bone were awls, knives, pins, chisels, wedges, and harpoons.

The last was a barbed instrument used for catching fish. It will be doescribed in detail when we come to our chapter on Early Fishermen.

MY HAZING ADVENTURE

Part I—A Freshman Is Caught

To the boys and girls of Madison—When I was a freshman at the University of Wisconsin, I had an adventure which was about as exciting as any I have had in my life.

It was a Friday night and I attended a meeting of a debating society. In order that I might reach a certain drug store before it closed, I left the meeting early and walked down the campus hill alone. At the foot of the hill I heard a noise of running and shouting.

It was the sophomores, and they were out looking for freshmen in order to haze them (for that was what university authorities called "a bad year").

I wanted to reach that drug store by all odds, because I had in my care some valuable concert tickets which were to be left there. So I went out of my way a bit and got to the drug store.

Coming outside, I walked down university avenue wondering if I would meet any sophomores. Sure enough, before I had gone a block, three of them came up and seized me. They knew I was a freshman because of the little green cap with a red button which I wore.

"Sorry, frosh," they said, "but we'll have to throw you in the lake."

I struggled at first, but then became quiet as an idea struck me. I would pretend to be "tame" and when they became careless about guarding me, I would make a break for freedom. That might have worked except for one thing—as we walked toward the gymnasium and the lake, more and more second year men gathered around me. Soon I had a guard of 15 or 20 and it was hopeless to try to get away.

Beside the university gymnasium is a hill which goes right down to the lake shore. On the top of this hill were 400 or 500 hundred excited enemies of freshmen. They swarmed around me when I was brought near. Some of the cooler heads among them realized there ought to be some excuse for throwing me in the lake, so they asked:

"What did he do?"

"He resisted when we caught him," was the reply.

Uncle Wiggily's Bedtime Stories

By HOWARD GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE BAD BOYS.

Copyright, 1923, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

(By Howard R. Garis.)

Uncle Wiggily Longears, the bunny rabbit gentleman, was hopping through the woods one day, looking for an adventure, when, all of a sudden, he heard a voice say:

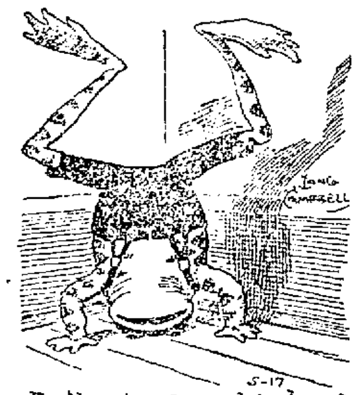
"I think something is going to happen."

"That's what I think," spoke another voice. "And I think I'm going to be bad!"

"Isn't that funny—I feel the same way!" exclaimed the voice which had first spoken.

"Gracious goodness me sakes alive and some peanut pudding;" thought Mr. Longears. "Can this be the Fuzzy Fox or the Woozie Wolf who are going to be so bad as to nibble my ears, I wonder?"

The bunny gentleman was about to hop away as fast as he could hop when there was a rustling sound in the bushes and out popped not the bad Fox or Wolf, but two little animal boys—Bully No Tail, the frog, and Jackie Bow Wow, the puppy.



Bully stood on his head in the corner.

"Oh, hello boys!" cried Uncle Wiggily in his most jolly voice, for he was no longer afraid.

"Hello, Uncle Wiggily," croaked Bully, while Jackie barked his delight, and then the frog boy said: "You must excuse us, Uncle Wiggily, but we have to hurry to school so we won't be late!"

"That's right, don't be late," agreed Mr. Longears, as he watched Bully hop and Jackie run along the woodland path. "And, as I have nothing special to do," whispered Uncle Wiggily to himself, "I'll hop to the Hollow Stump School and see what Jackie and Bully meant about saying that they were going to be bad and have something happen."

No sooner said than done. Uncle Wiggily hopped along under the trees to the place where the Lady Mouse Teacher heard lessons in the Hollow Stump school.

Now it happened just as Billy and Jackie had said it might. The little animal boys felt very jolly and cut up like that day, and when the Lady Mouse went into the next room to get some new pieces of chalk, all at once Bully, the frog, left his seat and stood on his head out in the middle of the room. This made all the other pupils laugh, of course.

Then Jackie Bow Wow took his long, thin, tin bean blower from his desk and he began blowing hard beans, like bullets, all around the room. This made the other children laugh again. And they were laughing still, and Bully was standing on his head and Jackie was shooting beans when, all of a sudden, the Lady Mouse teacher crept back into the room.

Oh how still and quiet it was then! But too late! The Lady Mouse had seen what happened.

"Bully No Tail," she squeaked in a gentle voice, "since you are so fond of standing on your head you may do it in one of the corners of the room until you get tired. Stand on your head in the corner, Bully, if you please." And Bully, growing very red behind his ears shuffled up and stood on his head in the corner.

"And, Jackie Bow Wow," went on the Lady Mouse teacher, "since you are so fond of blowing beans about the room, you may stand on your hind legs in the other corner and hold your bean blower."

There was no help for it—and Jackie marched to his corner, his tail between his legs. And the other animal children hardly laughed at all when they saw Bully standing on his head and Jackie on his hind paws, each in opposite corners of the school room.

Then the door opened and in came Uncle Wiggily.

"Ah, ha!" exclaimed the bunny gentleman. "I feared this was going to happen. So the boys were bad, were they, Lady Mouse?"

"Just a little bad," said the teacher sadly.

And then, all of a sudden, Billy the Frog gave a flop and stood up right on his legs, properly.

"Oh, teacher!" he croaked, "as I stood on my head I could look out through the window up into a tree, and the Bob Cat is hiding there, ready to jump down on Uncle Wiggily when he hops out. Oh. Lady Mouse teacher, what shall we do?"

"Quick, Jackie!" squeaked the Lady Mouse. "You take your bean blower and pepper the Bob Cat. As long as you have the beans and the blower make some good use of them, and thank you. Bully, for letting us know about the Bob Cat in the tree."

Then Jackie, taking careful aim, sent a shower of hard beans, like bullets, toward the Bob Cat waiting to nibble the bunny's ears.

"Ouchie! Wouchie! Wow!" howled the bad chap. "Oh, my nose!" And down out of the tree he fell ker-floppo! So he didn't nibble the rabbit's ears after all, and the Lady Mouse teacher left Jackie and Bully come from their corners and forgave them. I wish I could say they were never bad again, but I can't—for they were. But if the umbrella doesn't turn inside out when it sees the cabbage stand on its head I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and Nellie's jiggles.

SUGGESTIONS

On Wash Day—Did you ever try pinning a cloth to the sides of the washboiler with clothespins when you strain your rainwater? It is so much easier than holding the cloth over the pail.

To Whiten Hardwood Floors — Add two tablespons of paraffine to the hot soapy water used for washing the floor. This will also destroy any insects that may be lurking in the cracks.

When Doing Embroidery — Insteady of using embroidery hoops when you have some embroidery to do on material that is very likely to stretch or pull baste the stamped article on stiff brown wrapping paper or enamel cloth, which is flexible and can be crumpled in the hand, but will not allow the goods to stretch. The work is more easily done and more satisfactory in every way.

New Use for Corn Popper—Use the corn popper for washing raisins, currants and other small fruits. The cover can be locked on and the whole popper put under the water and shaken, thus washing the fruit thoroughly without crushing or breaking it.

Mrs. Thompson's Advice

GIRL CLAIMS BOY IS JEALOUS

Unwilling She Should Have Other Friends And He Wants To Get Married Right Away

DEAR MRS. THOMPSON: I am eighteen years old and I have been going with a young man for almost a year. He is of a very jealous nature and he is not willing that I should have other young men friends. He says that he loves me and I really believe he does, but I am sure I do not love him enough to go with him and no one else. Now he has asked me to marry him because he has found I will not give up other friends. When I said I was not old enough to marry him he told me he couldn't stand it any longer and unless I would give up my other boy friends he would stop coming to see me. Do you think he really loves me when he talks that way? I should think if he really loved me he would want to be with me even if I did have other friends. I don't want to give him up, but I don't know what to do. Please advise me. RUTH G.

You want everything just to suit you and you will often find that impossible. Of course the young man loves you, but he has sense enough to realize that he will be happier if he tries to forget you than to subject himself to such unhappiness as the result of his jealousy.

The only thing you can do is to insist that you like him as a friend but do not care enough for him to regard him as a lover. At your age it is really better that you should have other friends and not consider yourself in love.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: About a year ago I married a young man with whom I had been keeping company for one year. He was a man of very good reputation and from a very good family. During the year that I went with him he treated me as a perfect gentleman would treat a lady. He had a very fine education and people thought I made a splendid marriage.

He never mentioned his personal affairs to me, but naturally I thought he made a fair salary. Now that we are married I am forced to go to work to help pay the expenses. I find my husband to be a very changed person. He gets angry at the smallest thing and doesn't speak to me for days at a time. He fusses when I curl my hair or put a little powder on my nose. We haven't a thing of our own but live in one furnished room — one room to cook, eat and sleep in. When I speak about a home and furniture he says we don't need such things.

I gave up a very fine home when I married him. Some times I feel as though I should leave him to live in his one room. We have no children. As I am working now and get no appreciation for what I am doing, would you advise me to return to my parents? They know nothing of the way we are living and they think I married a man who could at least make a home for me. I am still young. Would you advise me to continue with this way of living?

BROKEN HEARTED.

There is little chance that you could ever be happy with your husband, and doubtless conditions would become worse and worse. Since there are no children I would advise you to leave him and go home to your parents. Marriage is a partnership. Your partner is letting you assume more than your share of the responsibility and the arrangement is not fair.

The Story of an Artist's Wife

As Told to Grace Phelps

BARCLAY IS ARRESTED

"Why certainly, Mr. Sharkey," Barclay answered, his tone showing the surprise he felt. "We came over on purpose to see you, in fact."

"That so?" The constable's voice was skeptical. Then he noticed that I was coming along too and he stopped embarrassed.

"I reckon it won't be necessary to trouble the lady," he said awkwardly.

"O, but I've got to come," I said quickly. "I was the one who was in the cave."

The constable, who was a lean bewhiskered man with blue eyes squinting out of a sea of wrinkles, turned his narrow gaze on me.

"Wal, if that's the case, you'd better come along too," he said shortly.

Barclay and I exchanged glances of bewilderment as we followed him up the main street to the unpainted frame house, little better than Lucy's shack on the island, that was his office. I pressed closer to Barclay. There was something in the man's manner I did not like.

The inside of the constable's office was as unprepossessing as the outside. There was merely an unpainted kitchen table and a couple of ramshackle chairs and a bookcase with glass doors. The bookcase was full of papers with a scattering of paper bound books like almanacs and half a dozen law books.

Barclay's eyes twinkled as he surveyed the room. The constable removed his coat and seated himself behind the table that evidently served as his official desk.

"He takes his office seriously," Barclay whispered behind his hand to me. "I suppose we'll have to humor him."

The constable glanced at us sharply.

"Draw up your cheers," he directed. We did so and Barclay was about to give an explanation of our visit when with a wave of the hand, the constable stopped him.

Reckon you know what I want," he said. "The revenooers have been after the fellers that's been breaking the law hereabouts but it took me to locate 'em! Leastwise one of them."

His tone was triumphant as he rested his glance on Barclay.

"O!" I exclaimed disappointed, "and I thought we'd be the first to tell you!"

The constable turned his gaze on me and his eyes opened a trifle wider.

"You did, huh?" he said finally. "Wal, I don't know as that would have done you any good!"

I was thoroughly puzzled and by this time uneasy at the strange manner. Barclay was equally at sea.

"See here," he broke out. "I don't know what you're driving at but I may as well tell you there's a cave on Barren Island being used by bootleggers—"

"Jest what I was coming to," the constable interrupted him. "I don't aim to know what you thought you'd get out of it, coming here brazen like, but I'm telling you, it ain't no use!"

"What the devil do you mean?" Barclay lost his temper. "I come over here under a broiling sun to inform you I've discovered a bootleggers' cache on the island and you sit there and try to insult me!"

"So that's your game, is it?" The constable's eyes narrowed to mere slits again and he almost spat the words out. "Ye get caught and then try to wriggle out of it by blamin' some one else. Wal, it's no go, young feller! I arrest ye in the name of the law!"

For the Invalid—A most useful gift is a cretonne bag made similar to a shoe bag, but having about eight compartments, each separated from the other by stitching. This bag should be tied by ribbons to the head of the bed, and in it kept such things as stationery, manicuring articles, hair brush and comb, such little things as an invalid needs but hesitates to ask for for fear of causing too much trouble.

Demetral Confident of Win as Date of Title Bout Draws Near

IN just 11 days, Madison sport boosters will have one of their wishes satisfied—to see Johnny Meyers and Jimmy Demetral clash again for the world's middleweight title. As the day approaches for the title go, followers of the mat game think back to last September when the local Greek battled like a demon for 57 minutes against the champion when suddenly his ankle snapped and he was carried from the mat—still as far away from the title belt as before.

Demetral was laid up in the hospital for more than three weeks and it was months before he could walk.

Jimmy's chance has come again after many long months of waiting and tiresome negotiations with the champion.

"I know I can beat Meyers," Jimmy tells his friends. "If my ankle hadn't broken in my other bout with him I would be middleweight champion today—and I am going to be within the next two weeks."

The popular Greek grappler is working hard for the coming bout and Young Gotch, his training partner, is giving him plenty of work too. Gotch is an old hand at the game and is just the man to help put Jimmy in shape for the bout. Today Jimmy is carrying around with him a few scars sustained in roughing melees with Gotch at the "Y" gym.

Johnny Meyers, in letters to the Capital Times sporting editor, expresses his confidence that he will pin the local contender.

"I am always in tip-top shape because I have to be—wrestling as often as I do, and Demetral will realize this too when he goes to the mat with me."

Great interest is being taken in the bout by fans in all parts of the state. Requests for ringside seats are being received daily by Jimmy's manager and promoter.

Milwaukee, where Demetral wrestled a great deal last fall, is sending a big delegation to be on hand and pull for their favorite.

Tickets are on sale at Fischer Bros., Abaly's, Galvin's and Morgan Bros. Ringside seats are being disposed of for $3, the inner circle $2 and the rim $1.

Young Gotch, another local favorite, is signed to meet Pete Kotaski in the preliminary bout. Gotch, as all fans here know, can give plenty of action and excitement while in the ring.

Badger Squad Meets Illinois Next Saturday

"Big 10" Title May Be Decided At Ohio-Michigan Tilt

When Coach Ray Fisher's hustling Michigan ball players meet Ohio State's team it is probable that the championship of the Big 10 will be decided in one game. The Wolverines have overcome every obstacle in their path to the title, the latest bush to be cut down being Iowa. The Cornhuskers went down to a 7 to 2 defeat Tuesday.

Although Ohio State's team was regarded as strong, followers of [illegible] conference baseball did not expect [illegible] shut out Illinois 1 to 0. Ollie [illegible] who was largely responsible [illegible] the Buckeye's footbal victory [illegible] the Illini last fall, was hero of the game, steaing home in the sixth inning.

In the meantime, Coach Guy S. Lowman is pointing his men toward the Illinois game which will be played Saturday at Urbana. The Badgers will step off at Evanston on their return to tackle Northwestern Monday.

Yesterday's practice was the first workout for the baseball men since Monday, Tuesday's game with Northwestern having been postponed because of rain and cold weather. Coach Lowman sent Pitchers Radke and Shrenk to the frosh team and the varsity was given a merry battle. Bill Johnson and Pickford each worked a couple of innings for the first team.

Gibson, who played center field in the Illinois field, will probabe be out of his uniform until next week as a result of a spill which he took after the Minnesota game. Gibson stumbled in going after a ball and ripped an ugly gash in his right hand.

In order to have his men acquainted with left handed pitching Lowman had Mills, southpaw who was barred on pro charges feed the [illegible] to the battes during practice. The Badgers might face a wrong-armed man at Illinois, O'Connor being that man. Another stiff workout is on the books for this afternoon, indicated Coach Lowman yesterday.

"Yost Field House" Is Great Tribute To Coach

Yost Field house is the name chosen for the new field house which is now being constructed on Ferry field at the University of Michigan. The request that this name be chosen has come from alumni, students and officials of the university who desire to recognize Fielding H. Yost for his great service to athletics during the 23 years he has been active as coach at Michigan.

The field house when completed, will put Michigan in a position to entertain other schools and colleges at indoor track meets, and will be the greatest single athletic building in the country.

Carroll College Coach Resigns; Has $4,000 Job

WAUKESHA — Madison Bell, football coach at Carroll college here for the past year, has resigned to become head coach of Texas Christian college, Fort Worth, Tex., his home town. His salary will be $4,000 a year.

Bell came to the local college from the Haskell Indian school, Lawrence, Kas. He formerly played with the Centre college elever.

Roundy Says:

Judge Karel Said A Mouthful At The Lions' Club Meeting Yesterday

It took a long time but Judge Karel finally said a mouth full at the Lion's convention in this city. He said, Madison is the most beautiful city in the universe and to have such rotten roads leading into it's city. Judge Karel said a mouth full. The roads in Dane Co. are horrible. The state capitol, the university of Wisconsin right here in one group and there are some roads leading to these views that are a disgrace.

* * *

And the beauty of it is when you get into Madison you get all the bumpy streets you want to make it a good measure.

* * *

I knew some of these visiting Lions would roar if they had to come through Waterloo to Madison. Every farmer between Waterloo and Sun Prairie has a team hitched to a tree in the yard waiting to pull you out for $5.

* * *

Roundy's Column —Why did Madison let Snyder go, they got only 10 hits off him and there were "four rank errors" back of him all counting for runs which were all easy chances. Snyder being a little green and nervous that first game and with that rotten support he got we fans wish to say he did fine work and should get another chance. He seemed to have a world of stuff and taking all under the thinking cap we figure this boy did wonderful pitching in that first game. A. Middleton Fan.

* * *

Roundy's Column — You can say one thing Mr. Roundy that the Twin Cities has it all over Madison when it comes to laying down bunts. Dodge has them down to a fine point on that playing point don't you think, while Madison as bunters should make good farm hands out here for us.—A. Apple Knocker.

* * *

I will answer some letters that I got from fans in this column tomorrow night.

* * *

The Lion's might roar but they are mild thing compared to John Kelly paying a bet for losing a horseshoe game in back of Joe Willhelms yard.

* * *

It is up to the people to get out and see this Elk's show at the Steinle plant which will open Saturday. It is the biggest thing ever put on in this city and should play to packed houses every night.

* * *

The Madison baseball team will take on some real competition here Saturday and Sunday in the Milwaukee Red Sox. Eddie Stump and men like Hank Schultz on their roster. Real ball players. Both outlaws or otherwise would be in the big show.

* * *

The Madison team did fine work at the Twin Cities and that stuff will have to get support and there should be at the least 800 in the stands for Saturday's game and if nice weather Sunday a jam should greet the team.

* * *

The fans are all back of the team after their wonderful showing at the Twin Cities and the team is in Jake. Let's go.

* * *

You must remember that the Athletic Association cannot go and get this star and that star. It cost a lot of money and the local money-bags are not bulging out with coin. If the fans will come to Kipp field in droves for about a month then the money-bags will get a healthy appearance and therefore more stars will be coming.

* * *

The team right now is a good ball club. There are changes in sight no doubt in that outfield coming. I hear that Shotten is a pitcher not an outfielder and the heads are out trying to land a real hard hitting outman they will have you sitting pretty close on those seats. Come on fans, and all out to Kipp Field Saturday and if nice weather Sunday, we should set a record on attendance in this city.

* * *

Jimmie Demetral and Gotch got to roughing it up on the mat yesterday and Jimmie has a bad cut on his cheek, but will be all right in a few days. Jimmie figures he is about a 50 per cent better man right today than when he faced Meyers last.

* * *

The tickets are going rather good and the small towns are calling up for good seats and one town alone gets a batch of 14 with only about 40 men in the village. Fisher's, Abaly's Galvin's and Morgan's have them for sale.

* * *

If this weather still keeps up it gives Jimmie Clark a chance to talk iceboating, his favorite pastime and get away with it. Every time a wind blows down the street he pulls out his sails and is off to a fresh start.

* * *

Mr. Roundy—Your old friend, Pinkey Mitchell, a man you have boosted while others were tearing him to pieces will get a chance at Leonard this month. I suppose you will be there and have the fine chance of seeing him get a swell trimming and in fact get knocked out. A Leonard Booster.

* * *

Dear Sir—While other writers were saying he was just getting by on his "rep" and getting fights on that alone, and there was no chance for him ever to attain a fighting position in the game, I said, "Watch this kid, Pinkey Mitchell." His getting a match with Leonard shows you my dope ran through. I do not say he can beat Leonard, but I do say that I figured him a coming boy, getting this match proves my statements to a dot. Thank you.

American Legion Forbids Use Of Name In Fight

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. — Alvin Owsley, national commander of the American Legion, in a statement on Wednesday declared he desired "to remove the impression that the legion is connected in any respect" with the Jack Dempsey-Tom Gibbons heavyweight championship match to be held at Shelby, Mont., on July 4.

Loy J. Molumby, commander of the Montana department of the legion, one of the promoters of the bout, is acting as a private individual, Commander Owsley contends.

Wisconsin Ball League Off To A Great Start

Southern State Teams Play Before 2,000 Fans Sunday

JANESVILLE, Wis.—The southern Wisconsin baseball league, which got away to a brilliant start last Sunday, played to more than 2,000 fans, according to figures compiled here Tuesday by Frank Sinclair, Janesville, president of the league. The Boosters of Janesville played before 1,000, losing to Fort Atkinson, 10 to 4. At Stoughton, 500 saw the American legion of the Wagon city defeat Deerfield, 9 to 3. The Edgerton American legion trimmed Cambridge at that place, 4 to 2, before 500.

Each of the three contests were featured by fight every inch of the way. In each battle, late rallies grabbed the game out of the fire. Fort's American legion organization slammed seven runs across the pan in the ninth to beat Janesville. Edgerton made three runs on not hits and a batch of errors to trim Cambridge. Stoughton came to life and won from Deerfield with seven runs in the eighth.

MARINETTE — Jerred Rickaby of Niagara was sentenced to a year at Waupun following his conviction on a statutory charge involving hs 14 year old daughter.

Cold Weather Hurts Strong A. League Pair

Detroit And Cleveland Not 'Making Hay' In Late Games

(By the Associated Press)

CHICAGO —The Cleveland Indians and Detroit Tigers, the strongest western pair of the American League are not making hay while the cold sun of a miserable May shines.

While the New York Yankees and Philadelphia athletics who lead the western invasion of the junior circuit, are gathering points the two western teams are failing.

Yanks and Athletics Win

The Yankees and Athletics kept on their winning ways yesterday, the former beating St. Louis 4 t 1 and the latter the Indians 5 to 0.

The opening of the Washington-Chicago and Boston-Detroit series were prevented by the weather.

Charlie Grimm, Pirate first baseman, intent upon establishing a new record for consecutive game hitting, got two of the four hits allowed yesterday by Long John Scott of the Giants and now his string is 25.

Giants Defeat Pirates

The Giants took the rubber game of the short-end series from the Pirates 6 to 2, and now take on Cincinnati, which should not be too much trouble to the New Yorkers. The Cincinnati-Philadelphia game was postponed because of rain, giving the Reds a clean sweep of a two game series.

St. Louis comes to Brooklyn today with the ear marks of being the strongest of the western National teams at this stage, having taken three out of four from Philadelphia and two out of three from Boston. They dropped a bitterly fought 14 inning struggle yesterday to Boston, 7 to 6.

The Chicago Cubs swing into the last lap of a disastrous tour opening against Philadelphia today. The re-shaped Brooklyn Robins trounced the Cubs again 3 to 2 making it three out of four.

Grimm Hits In 20 Games

Charley Grimm, of the Pirates, ran his string of safe hitting in the consecutive games to 25 and pulled away from Harry Heilmann, the Tiger star, who was forced to remain idle on account of wet ground after hitting safely in 21 games.

Fournier Gets 3 Bingles

Jacques Fournier, the Fenchman, obtained by the Dodgers from the Cardinals, is hitting the ball savagely, Jack smashed out three hits, one a double in four times at bat.

Freddie Schupp the former major League pitched continues to show winning form in the American Association. He told Toledo to 6 hits while Kansas City pounded out enough to win, 10 to 1.

Southworth Homer Wins

Bill Southworth's homer in the fourteenth inning enabled Boston to defeat St. Louis 7 to 6. Southworth saved the game the previous inning when he made a diving catch of a drive and started a double play which broke up a rally.

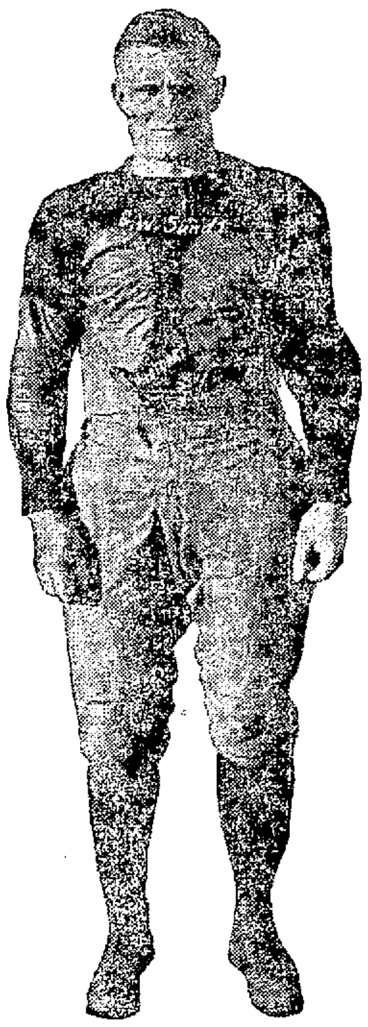
Guy Sundt Signs To Play With Hub City Baseball '9'



Guy Sundt.

Guy Sundt, one of Wisconsin's greatest all-around athletes who is now coaching Ripon college will play baseball this summer with the Stoughton nine in the southern Wisconsin League.

Sundt's presence on the team will strengthen the Hub City aggregation considerably— and also help swell the gate receipts.

Ind. Athletic Assn. League Set For Start

First Games Will Be Played Saturday; Have Five Teams

Plans have been about completed for the opening of the baseball schedule of the Industrial League. Four teams will get into action Saturday afternoon at 1:30 P. M. at the French Battery Field when Madison College and Burgess Battery Company cross bats in the opener. French Battery will play the second game immediately after the first game with the Marines. The fifth team in the league Fuller & Johnson, will be idle on the opening day.

Two games will be played each Saturday while the fifth team will have an open date. The League will play three rounds which will take the schedule up to Aug. 25.

The following names have been handed in: French Battery—Garvey, Wiedenbeck, Kleinheinz, Roach Peterson, Stacy, Gannon, Kirkpatrick, Rankhoff, Roesmussler, Sutton, Bergan, Stinze, La Hail, Hanson, Gratiot.

For Madison College: Bogumill, Sweeney, Schultz, Ogelsvie, Karsten, Vine.

For Burgess Battery: Mergen, Woods, Ellis, Nieburh, Kissack, Heik, Schlaak, Reichel, Waldo, Strang, Christensen, McDonald, Reese, Dodge, Schott, Roinefinger, Anderson.

For Fuller & Johnson: Pete Adler, Rasmussen, Tommy Rice, Yunger, Manley, Burmeister, Andrews, Christenson, Hegge, Hegge, Altow, Haag.

For the Marines: M. Rodley, Spearsnott, John Butler, M. Neibow, John Gotstein, Mike Rommerfonger, Ebert Hewitt, Walter Thorson G. Dallam.

The opener between Madison College and Burgess will start promptly at 1:30 Saturday. George Levis will umpire the games. Season tickets are on sale at a dollar.

Gophers Need Hurler For Rest Of Season

L. R. Watrous, head baseball coach at hte University of Minnesota, is searching his squad with an eagle eye these days, hoping to discover the thir pitcher that will be necessary to carry the team through its spring schedule. The first need for a third man will come at the end of this week when Minnesota faces the Kalamazoo Normal School at Kalamzoo, Mich.

Bo McMillan Shows Class In Derby Run

Heavy Track Fails To Keep Contenders Idle At Louisville

LOUISVILLE, Ky.—Although the heavy and holding this morning, owners of the score or more conceded Kentucky Derby contenders could no longer postpone serious work fortheir candidates and the track wasalive with horses that are the hopes ofthousands for the 3-year-old classic.

Derby Day is only a step away and condition is the all-important factor at this stage.

Promptly at 6 a. m. James Rowe, astute handler of Whitney thoroughbreds, sent his charges out for work. Enchantment and Cherry Pie worked first, the former going the full derby distance in 2:15 3-5. At the finish Enchantment was a very tired horse. Bodily he looks fit, being of the long-loping greyhound type, all legs.

His fractional time was a quarter in 0:25, half in 0:51 4-5, three-quarters in 1:15 1-5, mile in 1:46 3-5 and mile and an eighth in 2:00 3-5.

Martingale in fine condition and obviously ready to race, came on the course and merely breezed the ten furlong trip in 2:17 2-5. His fractional time was 0.25 2-5, 0:53 2-5, 1:21 1-5, 1:48 2-5, 2:03, 2:17 2-5. He was not hard pushed and could have done better.

By far the best workout of the morning was turned in by Bo McMillan. He raced the quarter in 0.25 3-5, the half in 0:51 2-5, the three-quarters in 1:17, the mile, in 144, nine furlongs in 1:58 2-5 and the full Derby distance in 2:12 2-5. It was remarkable work, done without apparent effort, with the boy sitting against him all the way. 56swr godh9.d By mfwy m m m m

U. W. Tennis Team To Meet Purple, Maroons

Coach Linden is pointing his varsity tennis team to the two final games of the year. The remaining games before the conference at Chicago are with Northwestern Saturday and Michigan on Monday of next week.

The team is in good condition after their defeat by the Maroons last Saturday, and are not going stald although they came out on the short end of the score. The Chicago net men are considered one of the strongest teams in the conference, and with such men as Wilson and Frankenstein to overcome the manner in which the Badgers came through is remarkable.

Report of the Markets

Report for May 17, 1923

Wheat Prices Higher; Corn, Oats Follow

(By the Associated Press)

CHICAGO — Commission house buying said to be based on unfavorable crop reports from the southwest made the wheat market average a little higher in price today during the early dealings. Offerings were light and the market responded quickly to buying orders. Strength in the corn market continued to act as a bullish influence on wheat. After opening at ⅛c decline to ⅜c advance, July 1.17⅜ to 1.17½ and Sept. 1.15⅞ to 1.16⅛ the wheat market sagged a little and then rose all around to well above yesterday's finish.

The fact that buying diminished on the bulges and that any vigorous export demand was lacking brought about a reaction at the finish. The close was unsettled at ¼c decline to ¼c advance, with July 1.17⅜ to 1.17½ and September 1.15¾ to 1.15⅞.

CORN — Scantiness of receipts, together with adverse weather, lifted the corn market despite liberal selling to realize profits. The opening which ranged from ⅛c off to a like advance, with July 81⅛ @ ¼ to 81¾ was followed by a moderate downturn.

Subsequently demand slackened and prices receded. The close was unsettled ½ @ ⅝; net lower to ⅛c advance, July 80¾.

OATS— Oats parallelled the action of corn, starting unchanged to ⅛ @ ¼c higher, July 43⅛ to 43¼. set-backs ensued and then fresh up-

CHICAGO CHEESE

CHICAGO — The cheese market here yesterday was rather unsettled due to the continued light demand. Buyers felt that prices were rather high and did not care to carry any stock beyond immediate requirements. Dealers, on the other hand were rather free sellers generally holding for quotations as they did not look for any lower prices for some time. Held cheese continued quiet and firm.

MINNEAPOLIS FLOUR

MINNEAPOLIS — Flour unchanged to 10 cents higher. In carload lots, family patents quoted at 6.80 @ 7.00 a barrel in 98 pound cotton sacks. Shipment 40,998 barrels. Bran 27.00.

CHAPTER 139, LAWS OF 1923.

AN ACT To create section 1806a of the statutes, relating to equipment of engines by railroad corporations, and providing a penalty.

The people of the state of Wisconsin, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A new section is added to the statutes to read: Section 1806a. 1. It shall be unlawful for any railroad company to use within the state of Wisconsin on its line or lines between the fifteenth day of November and the first day of April of each year any locomotive engine not equipped with suitable and approved cab curtains. Such curtains shall be so constructed as to efficiently enclose the openings between the engine cab and the water tank or coal tender attached to such locomotive engine. The windows of the cab shall be properly and closely fitted and all openings for levers or pipes and all other openings whatsoever through which cold or drafts may bring discomfort to the occupants, shall be efficiently protected in such manner as may be required and according to plans approved by the railroad commission of Wisconsin: provided however, that nothing in this section shall be construed to prohibit the driving of a locomotive engine not so equipped to or from a repair shop or shops for the purpose of having the same repaired.

2. All railroad companies shall submit plans for such equipment and work to said railroad commission for approval not later than September 1, 1923.

3. Any person or corporation or its officers or agents violating any of the provisions of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be subject to the payment of a fine of not less than twenty-five dollars or more than one hundred dollars for each day that such engine is used without the equipment designated.

4. It shall be the duty of the railroad commission of Wisconsin to enforce the provisions of this act.

SECTION 2. This act shall take effect upon passage and publication. Approved May 16, 1923.

Will the Senate Make Gun and Sword Compulsory at University?

THE Sachtjen bill, making military drill optional instead of compulsory at the university, will come before the senate for action at tonight's session.

* * *

DO THE people of Wisconsin know that the regiments at our colleges and universities form part of the great war machine which the military clique at Washington is attempting to foist on the people of this country through the National Defense Act of 1920? Do the people know that these militarists are constantly trying to extend the sphere and scope of militarism in the universities?

To those people who have been contending that the only purpose of military drill at the university is to develop the students physically we would commend the following statement made by Brig. Gen. Lassiter in the report of the Secretary of War to the president on "Conference Training for Citizenship and National Defense" and submitted to the president in February:

> The main objective of a military training given in our schools, colleges and summer camps, is to fit our young manhood to fill up the commissioned and non-commissioned grades in the National Guard and Organized Reserve Units of their particular localities.

In other words, the universities are to be the West Points of the war machine at Washington. From the campus of every university and college in the country is to come an array of officers who are to officer the national guard and other military units.

* * *

IN THE same report, the Committee on the Reserve Officer Training Corps urges that an effort should be made to increase the efficiency and the number of units at the university in the following language:

> The committee advises that efforts be made to increase the efficiency and the number by giving the subject due weight in opening addresses at the beginning of the college terms, by members of the faculty stressing its importance on every proper occasion, by using available means of publicity to place and keep this idea before the attention of the student body and advocating credits toward a degree in colleges and government subsidy in high schools and other secondary schools, not essentially military.

How well the war machine has penetrated into our institutions of learning is shown by the fact that there are 124 colleges and universities having military training in which 57,000 men are enrolled and 105 secondary schools where 39,000 boys are receiving military training. Nearly 100,000 young men are receiving training in the universities, colleges and schools of the country for military training!

Are our educational institutions agencies for peace or for war?

* * *

EFFORTS have been made to show that compulsory training is necessary at the university in order to comply with the provisions of the Morrill act or the land grant act for colleges.

Deputy Attorney General Curkeet, in a comprehensive opinion, recently held that compulsory training at the university is not requisite to the fulfillment of obligations under the Morrill act. The Morrill act gives money to colleges and universities each year that offer courses in agriculture, the arts and military training.

The same requirement is made in the Morrill act for the teaching of agriculture that is made for military training. Why, then, haven't courses in agriculture been made compulsory at the university as well as military training?

As a matter of fact, military training has been made compulsory at the university through the influence of militarists who prevailed upon the regents to make military training compulsory. The state, according to Mr. Curkeet, can make military training at the university optional and still come within the provisions of the Morrill act. All that the act requires is that courses SHALL BE OFFERED in agriculture, the arts and military training.

* * *

DO THE members of the legislature want the University of Wisconsin to become an agency for peace or for war? Is the gun and sword to stalk up and down our campus or are we to emphasize here the victories of peace? Will Wisconsin take the lead in saying to the nation that our great people's universities shall not be made military West Points where the incubation of military officers for the general staff at Washington shall take place?

The members of the state senate tonight will have an opportunity to give Wisconsin's answer to the nation.

Poems That Live

TO A BUTTERFLY.

Stay near me—do not take thy flight!
A little longer stay in sight!
Much converse do I find in thee,
Historian of my infancy!
Float near me; do not yet depart!
Dead times revive in thee:
Thou bring'st, gay creature as thou art,
A solemn image to my heart,
My father's family.

Oh, pleasant, pleasant were the days,
The time when, in our childish plays,
My sister Emmeline and I
Together chased the butterfly!
A very hunter did I rush
Upon the prey—with leaps and springs
I followed on from brake to bush,
But she, God love her, feared to brush
The dust from off its wings.

— Wordsworth.

LORD CECIL IS GREAT MAN.

[To The Editor]—I hate to read you maligning Lord Robert Cecil and hate even more to think you take your cue in this from Arthur Brisbane, to whom every Englishman seems a villain. That is too sweeping. Whether Lord Robert Cecil is right or wrong in his views of international affairs, he is singularly intelligent and honest man and a man of great moral courage and political independence. (He is not, by the way, a "ruler of England" any more than Senator La Follette is at present a ruler of America). In most respects at least he is a very forward-looking man, and his opinions, though you combat them, are entitled to decent treatment. Even more so is he.—William Gorham Rice.

"Please don't remove your hat in this elevator. Keep it on and help speed up elevator service." This is a sign the mayor of Cleveland proposed to place in all elevators in that city. "Fellows who have to be so polite and take off their hats just jam things up," said the mayor. "They hold their hats over their stomachs and take up room that other people should have and block the way in getting in and out of elevators."

TOWN AND GOWN, so we are informed by the publishers, continues to be a good seller, while the authorities at the University of Illinois persist in deprecating its authenticity.

The Dean of Men refuses to discuss the book at all. The Dean of Women blandly refers to it as a portrayal of conditions as they were before she arrived.

POLLY WITH A PAST and ADAM AND EVA, two three-act comedies by George Middleton and Guy Bolton. (Henry Holt: New York).

Amateur theatrical societies and Thursday afternoon tea clubs will be glad to know that these two delightful comedies of American life, have been published by Henry Holt and Co. Polly With a Past was originally produced by Belasco in New York and ran there for forty weeks. Since then there is scarcely a city in the United States that has not seen it. Adam and Eva was first put on at the Longacre theater in New York and also has enjoyed record runs throughout the country. In fact, it may be seen now in Madison at the Majestic in the movie adaptation.

Every one who has followed the theater at all in the last few years knows these plays. They are both friendly satires on American society, which have excited extraordinary comment because of their sparkling humor that is lacking in so many satirical works.

CASUAL WANDERINGS IN ECUADOR by Blair Niles (Century: New York).

Here is one of the most interesting travel books I ever ran across. It is the story of the wanderings of a woman and her husband on the west coast of South America around Guyaquil, Quito and in the countryside of Ecuador. More school books should be written the way this story is written. The descriptions of the native towns, the scenic beauty, the looks, habits and customs of the people are all interestingly treated, without a trace of monotony or blatant attemps to interpret foreign peculiarities into American symbols of understanding for comparative purposes.

I remember with decided distaste that many of the travel books which made my grade school days miserable were thus characterized. The illustrations in this volume are worthy of comment. Each one serves to crystallize descriptions in the readers' minds, and are really extraordinary as photographic studies. Ecuador lies not in the path of the conventional traveler, and is the subject of little contemporary treatment or observation. This book certainly is an interesting revelation indeed.

EMERSON HOUGH.

Written especially for Capital Times by Donald Anderson (editor of "Yellowstone Tourist.")

Emerson Hough is gone and there is none to take his place. Here was a man who knew his west and could write about it, and have those who know the west call it "good." But there are others who can do this much. It was the background that this man possessed that places him head and shoulders above all the others, for he carried on a personal fight to maintain the natural and the beauty of that country. The fact that it is possible today to find some of the west of fiction is due in small part to his efforts.

In 1894 Hough made a snowshoe trip through the Yellowstone National Park, and he saw that if the practices of that time were coninued America would soon be without big game—the buffalo, the elk and the deer. In magazines, in fiction, and even before congress he fought for legislation to protect these animals in their losing fight. And he won.

It was a rare experience for the cub reporter to corner Emerson Hough in the Yellowstone at the home given him by the government in appreciation of his services. His was a reticent nature and the interview lagged until the subject touched nature, and then how he talked. His experiences in the early days of the west; the disappointments in making stupid lawmakers see the justice of his contentions; the development of the game herds, and a dozen other allied topics flowed in the terse language of the business man and author.

After a busy year Hough would pack up and come back to the country he loved to fish and roam the mountains, and to store his mind with enough romance to last the rest of the year. He was loved by the old-timers, and his hunting ground in the Yellowstone is known to hundreds as the Kingdom of Hough.

Emerson Hough has made a double contribution. He has painted the west in true and vivid colors, and he has saved a living bit of nature for posterity.

The annual awards of the Pulitzer prizes in journalism and letters are always of interest to people who read. Awards are made on a basis of merit and influence. The list of 1923 prize winners this year proves that the judges have made wise selections.

Willa Cather's ONE OF OURS was mentioned first for the $1,000 prize for the American novel published during the year which best presented the wholesome atmosphere of American life and the highest standard of American manners and manhood. The book fills these requirements. Man's fight for the realization of an ideal is beautifully told in it. Critics have scored this book because it is written by a woman; but it is woman who can best visualize the ideal in men. Readers complain because of Claude's death, but they should see that had he lived, the same ideal for which he fought and died would have faded, and his purpose would have failed.

Former soldiers ridicule the war of Willa Cather and hold up Three Soldiers as the better presentation. In One Of Ours we have the war described in a beautiful story. It makes war seem all the more pitiful and useless. There is a greater feeling of sorrow when Claude Wheeler falls in battle, than when John Andrews walks into the the enormous room.

William Allen White, editor of the Gazette, Emporia, Kans., was awarded the $500 prize for the best editorial of the year, and the Memphis Commercial-Appeal, Memphis, Tenn., the $500 gold medal for the most disinterested and meritorious public service rendered by a newspaper.

Charles Warren was given the $2,000 prize for the best book upon the history of the United States for his book, THE SUPREME COURT IN UNITED STATES HISTORY. The $1,000 prize in biography was awarded to THE LIFE AND LETTERS OF WALTER H. PAGE, by Burton J. Hendrick. The $1,000 prize for the original play performed in New York which was best from the standard of good morals, good taste and good manners, was awarded to ICEBOUND, by Owen Davis.

Edna St. Vincent Millay won the $1,000 prize for the best volume of verse published during the year by an American author.

THE GENTLE DEEDS.

Who would be loved needs neither wreath of fame
  Nor robe of glory. He has but to find
  Room in his heart for gentle deeds and kind.
Men's eyes shall glow at mention of his name,
Recalling joys which blossomed when he came
  And the sweet memories which he left behind.
  The stamp of worth is printed on the mind
In lasting letters marble cannot claim.
A gentle way when sorrow hides the sun,
  A kindly voice when all the thoughtless sneer,
A heart forgiving when a wrong is done,
  These are the traits which all mankind revere.
Who would be loved on earth has but to find
Room in his heart for gentle deeds and kind.

THE MORNING'S MAIL.

Ed. Murphy's comic disappeared for a day or two and in consequence of the tragedy we've received the following plaintive appeal:

Toots, Oh Tootsie, where are you?
Buttercup and Casper too;
Longing fills our heart with pain
As we look for you in vain.
Did you hide away awhile
Cause your skirts were out of style?
Please don't worry any more,
Come to us just as before
For we love your pretty face
And your slender form of grace.
You were surely true to life
Like the modern loving wife.
Many bachelors you've consoled
Who still clutch their chunk of gold;
Moved the hearts of married men
Tootsie, please come back again!

UNSOLVED MYSTERIES.

Dear Ticks: I am a confirmed optimist, but there are some things that have got me up a tree. Here are a few brain-twisters that have twisted me all up:

Who names the Pullman cars, and why?

Why can't you tell a baldheaded man a hair raising story?

Who the devil has wished this mild winter on us this summer?

What was the list of questions with which the Queen of Sheba tested Solomon?

Why is the hero of an opera always a tenor?

Who is going to pave our city streets?

What does President Harding do besides play golf?

Where did the street car supervisor at Carroll and Mifflin street crossing get those new shoes?

Yours for an answer,
A. A. Thomas.

* * *

Dear Mr. Thomas: Some of your mysteries aren't so very hard. To-wit:

The Queen of Sheba got the list from Solomon's wives.

The hero of an opera is always a tenor because it would hardly do to have a bass hero.

That supervisor probably got his new shoes at a hardware store.

* * *

The other questions are still mysteries. Maybe some reader may help us out.

THOSE CHIMES

The university, I hear,
  Is not behind the times;
They will be soon installing
A kingly set of chimes.

And in the shimmering sunrise
  The wisdom-seeking throng
Will wake to chimes resounding
  And listen to their song.

I fear, though, unrecked trouble
  Among the maids and men;
The soothing, restful chimes will
  Lull them to sleep again!

MODERNIZED MYTHS.
XVIII. THE AMAZONS.

Those of us who think the flappers are so terrible should have lived back in the olden days, when the Amazons were still the viscount's mustachios.

The Amazons were a nation of warlike women. They had no men whatever in their city, and any boys that were born were shipped to some other neighborhood via Wells-Fargo. The girls, instead of being taught cooking and the gentler arts, were brought up to fight, but since none of them married they had to travel to do their fighting. They helped the Trojans in their war with the Greeks, but Achilles K. O.'d the Amazon queen and the Trojans as well, which proves that woman's place is in the home.

The Amazons are supposed to be extinct, but any married man can prove the contrary to you.
